Kozlov Winds Up His Visit To U.S. Today

Flies To New York After Pittsburgh, Shippingport Stops

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Frol R. Kozlov's barnstorming tour of the United States ends today.

The Soviet first deputy premier flies to New York's La Guardia Airport after a brief stop in this industrial city for a look at the Homestead works of the U.S. Steel Corp., and a visit to the nuclear power plant at Shippingport, Pa.

The weary Kremlin leader cut more than half a day from his Pittsburgh stay to permit him to rest in New York before taking off by Soviet jet transport for Moscow Monday. The last scheduled public event of his tour will be a news conference Sunday in New York.

Kozlov was a guest at a private dinner Friday night at the home of Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield of the University of Pittsburgh. Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania was among the guests.

Hoffa To Face Probe Unit On Cheat Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa is due before the Senate rackets probers Monday to answer charges that his Teamsters Union cheated its members and took part in a secret strike-breaking mission.

Probe chairman John R. McClellan (D-Ark) reviewed Friday testimony that Hoffa made deals with favored employers and bargained away take home pay of rank and file teamsters.

That, said McClellan, was "ratting and cheating on these hard-working people." As to Hoffa's often-voiced charge that the rackets committee is antiunion, McClellan said:

"The real union busters are the cheats and the frauds we've exposed."

The strike - breaking charge came from Wally Butler, president of a Department Store Workers Union local in Detroit, Hoffa's home city.

Butler testified that Hoffa's teamsters have been used on at least one secret strike breaking mission in Detroit to defeat a walkout of employes of a bottling plant.

Strike Deadline Tuesday

Steel Says Pact Agreement Slim

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel industry said today it saw no possibility of a contract agreement to avert a strike at midnight next Tuesday.

In announcing this, R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, said there was no other recourse but to notify steel firms later today to begin shutting down.

After an hour long negotiating session with the steelworkers union, Cooper said, "I regret to announce we see no possibility of an agreement."

Cooper said no further negotiating session was scheduled with union President David J. McDonald until Sunday morning, "but the outlook for an agreement is not hopeful."

The industry spokesman said the companies again had asked the union to extend labor contracts indefinitely so bargaining talks could continue while plants remained in operation.

Cooper said the union rejected any further contract extension beyond the two-week truce expiring at midnight Tuesday.

The two-week postponement of an earlier steel strike threat on July 1 was granted by the union at President Eisenhower's request for more negotiating time. But the union last Wednesday turned down Eisenhower's plea for a further contract extension.

Cooper broke off the practice of joint industry-union announcements to meet the reporters this morning in announcing the industry's view that it now appears no strike-free solution appeared possible.

So far, it was reliably reported from both sides that the top dozen steel firms have stood firm on

Man In Crash Faces Charge After Pursuit

A Salem motorist who fled twice from the scene of an accident Friday night finally was caught and charged with drunken driving, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol. The patrol also investigated a sideswiping accident.

A car driven by Stroh Caldwell, 40, of Salem went left of center on Route 172 at New Garden last night at 9:45 and struck another driven by Mervin McKarns, 43, of Hanoverton, officers said.

Caldwell failed to halt, but was chased and stopped about two miles away by another motorist who had witnessed the mishap. Caldwell returned to the scene, but fled again when he learned the patrol had been called.

He was taken into custody a short time later and charged with drunk driving, officers said.

Cars driven by Mary L. Dickson, 29, of 808 Louise St. and Edna I. Devee, 59, of Cleveland Heights, Cleveland, sideswiped on Route 30 a half mile west of Lisbon Friday at 6 p. m. The patrol said the Cleveland woman swung wide on a curve. She was charged with driving left of center.

Meanwhile, an East Liverpool man was treated at City Hospital at 10 a. m. Friday following a four-way accident which demolished the pickup truck he was driving about four miles east of Chester on Route 30.

Robert Mason, 36, of Fisher Ave. received a possible fracture of the right shoulder. He was driving a pickup truck of the Air Reduction Sales Co. of Midland. He said a tractor - trailer truck failed to make a curve and hit a trailerless tractor, his pickup truck, and a car.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police and the Hancock County sheriff's office in New Cumberland had no report of the accident.

Newell Slates Kiddie Parade Monday Night

A "kiddie parade" Monday night at 7:30 will launch activities in an annual carnival week sponsored by Newell volunteer firemen.

Prizes will be awarded for the best-decorated bicycle, best comic team and the best-appearing vehicle—wagons or "soap box autos."

Dick Rayburn, chairman, said the parade will form on 4th St. between Grant and Washington Sts. and will proceed to the carnival grounds at Clark Field, where judging will take place.

All children participating in the parade will be treated to free candy or a similar refreshment, he said.

Judges will include Mrs. Mary Stoneburner and James Harrison, both of Newell, and William Paolisso of Weirton, Hancock County probation officer.

The parade will be led by a cruiser from the county sheriff's office and a fire truck from the Newell department.

Zontini Amusements will set up carnival rides over the weekend at Clark Field. Several booths will be operated by Newell civic groups.

A big firemen's parade is scheduled July 18, with over 100 invitations to area marching units, fire departments and drill squads already in the mail. Charles Lee is chairman of the firemen's parade.

REVELSTOKE, B.C. (AP) — Britain's royal couple embarked on a week-long tour of British Columbia today after a fast trip through the sunlit Canadian Rockies.

The Queen and Prince Philip made part of the trip in an open convertible, part of it in a railway car. The Queen snapped pictures from an observation platform like any tourist.

Banker Kills Holdup Man, Wounds One

Pair Had Kidnaped Alabama Policeman And Robbed Bank

ECLECTIC, Ala. (AP)—A young small-town banker early today shot and killed one holdup man and wounded another who had kidnaped a policeman and robbed a bank of $250.

Before he shot the two bandits, Carl Ray Barker, 31, subdued one of them by throwing scalding water in his face and beating him on the head with the robber's own pistol.

Barker is cashier and general manager of the Bank of Eclectic.

He killed the other bandit with a shotgun charge in the chest and seriously wounded the scalded, badly beaten holdup man with a charge of No. 4 birdshot in the hip.

The dead man was identified by papers in his wallet as James Franklin Bray, 25, of Montgomery. Taken to Kilby Prison at Montgomery in serious condition from loss of blood and other injuries was a man who gave the name of William D. Hayward, 26, also of Montgomery.

The two holdup men kidnaped city policeman Maxie Taunton after asking him to drive them out on a highway where they could hitchhike a ride.

The officer said one of the bandits had put a gun at the back of his head while he was driving, took his own gun from him, and ordered him to drive to the banker's home.

At Barker's home, the bandits ordered Taunton to summon the bank official to the door by telling him it was the police. They forced their way into the house and held the policeman, Barker, and the banker's pregnant wife and 3-year-old daughter captive.

Bray then forced Barker to accompany him to the bank while the other holdup man stayed in the house and stood guard over the captives.

The time lock on the bank vault was set to open at 8:30 a.m. and Bray couldn't budge it, so he grabbed a sack containing $250 in nickels and dimes.

After Bray and Barker had returned to the banker's home, the holdup man took Taunton back back downtown with him to get tape so he could tie the hostages until the bank vault was opened.

Gloomy Weekend Due For Area Sun-Bathers

Weekend sun-bathers have a gloomy Sunday ahead—it will be mild but cloudy—the Ohio weatherman said today.

But for almost everyone else, the weather picture will be favorable. The mercury is scheduled to get up to a high range of 78-82 this afternoon, with occasional showers to keep it out of the really hot classification.

It will be partly cloudy tonight with a low of 58-62. Dam 8 at Newell recorded a high of 85 at 6 p. m. Friday. The overnight low was 61.

300 Persons Forced To Flee For Lives; Woman, Son Hurt

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Twenty-eight homes are known destroyed in a brush fire—possibly touched off by an arsonist—which swept through 1,000 acres Friday in Hollywood's rustic Laurel Canyon.

Fifteen other homes were damaged. Three hundred persons were forced to flee for their lives.

Most of the homes were in the $30,000 to $40,000 class. Seven firemen were injured trying to save them. A woman resident and her son suffered burns running from their home as flames raced down upon it. It was destroyed.

A family in a 1959 auto barely escaped when the driver, blinded by smoke, drove off the road. The occupants fled on foot. Flames caught the car moments later and set it afire.

The blaze broke out in two different places on Laurel Canyon Boulevard and flared up minutes later a mile away on Mulholland Drive—leading firemen to suspect a firebug.

Mulholland crosses Laurel Canyon Boulevard, like the cross on a T, at the ridgeline of the Hollywood Hills. The flames spread from Lookout Mountain Drive north through hills and canyons crossed by two dozen streets.

3 Bound Over In Check Case

County May Charge 3 Held In Mahoning

Three area men linked with a bad check wave in two and possibly three counties have been bound over to the Mahoning County Grand Jury on charges of breaking and entering a North Lima firm to steal a check-printing machine.

Sherman E. Mikeals, 21, of 119 Washington St., Gilbert E. Mikeals, 24, of 1st St., Chester, and Ralph E. Heath, 24, of Newell are being held in Mahoning County Jail in Youngstown under bond of $1,000 each.

The trio appeared this morning before Mahoning County Judge Harold S. Rickert Jr., and all entered pleas of guilty to the charges of breaking and entering the North Lima Trucking Co. on Route 164 July 7, when they obtained the check printing machine.

The three were apprehended Wednesday morning in Newell by Hancock County sheriff's deputies, who found $1,080 worth of "rubber" checks hidden in an auto defroster hose.

Authorities said the trio also obtained a book of blank checks from the trucking firm and three of the checks are believed to have been cashed in Columbiana County.

Authorities said two were cashed at Brookside Tavern on Route 7 and Baker's Garage in Hanoverton, while an East Liverpool bank is believed to be holding a third.

Clayton Baker of the Hanoverton garage identified the trio Thursday at Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland.

One check is believed to have been cashed in Stark County and several others in Mahoning County, authorities indicated.

Detainers are expected to be issued against the trio by police in Columbiana, Hancock and Stark Counties.

Takes Off For Big Four Talks

'Reasonable Agreement' Herter Pledge At Geneva

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter took off today for the Big Four talks at Geneva with a pledge to strive for "a reasonable agreement with the Soviet Union on the problems of Germany and Berlin."

But, Herter said, he has "no great expectations for success" and that bargaining with the Russians requires "infinite patience and long labor."

Herter spoke at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., near Washington, just before soaring away in a brand new jet plane, a giant military version of the Boeing 707 airliner. It was one of three bought for President Eisenhower and other top officials. Herter's flight is the first official use of the new craft.

Aides said the U.S. foreign affairs chief is not ruling out the possibility of at least a temporary agreement on the cold war crisis issue at the second round of the foreign ministers' conference. Such an agreement could pave the way for a summit meeting later in the year.

"My collagues of France and the United Kingdom and I will strive, as we did before, to reach a reasonable agreement with the Soviet Union on the problems of Germany and Berlin," Herter said in his airport statement.

"We go to Geneva resolved, as before, to negotiate in good faith, and equally determined to maintain our obligations to the more than two million free people of West Berlin.

"Before I left for the first series of discussions in Geneva I said I had no great expectations for success. Negotiations with the Soviet Union require infinite patience and long labor. That remains my view as we approach the second series of discussions.

"I am confident that the same close unity among the Western Allies which brightened our work at Geneva will again prevail."

Herter, who talked with President Eisenhower and other top officials Friday, planned to make his first stop in Ottawa today.

In the Canadian capital he will confer with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Foreign Secretary Howard Green.

He commented in mentioning the Canadian conferences that "in the difficult period ahead the continuing close friendship between Canada and the United States on the basic issues involved will be invaluable."

He will leave Ottawa at 6 p.m. for Geneva via a fueling stop at Harmon, Newfoundland, and is expected to arrive at the Swiss city at 9 a.m. Sunday.

The Canadians were believed likely to put in a plug for the British view—that a summit conference should be held regardless of whether the foreign ministers make progress at Geneva. Eisenhower says the Geneva talks must make some headway to justify a meeting of the heads of state.

The Soviets, who also are pushing for a summit parley, touched off the German crisis by demanding an end to the postwar occupation of Communist-encircled West Berlin. Britain, France and the United States refused to yield the city's access to the free world.

Reports from London said Britain obtained a strong private indication from the Kremlin Friday that the Soviets are ready to respect Western rights in Berlin at least until early 1961.

It was the third assurance passed to the West that the Soviet Union is prepared to freeze the Berlin crisis if agreement can be reached on various "improvements" to ease tensions in Berlin and all Germany, competent sources said.

These developments, hitherto secret, clearly lay behind the confidence of Prime Minister Macmillan's government that an East-West summit conference will be held, the reports said. Some authorities in London are guessing that the first of a series of summit meetings would be held in Geneva in late August or mid-September with a series of rolling negotiations by foreign ministers on grave problems of Europe sandwiched between the summit sessions.

With Invitation To Khrushchev

Summit Meeting In U.S. Advocated By Harriman

WASHINGTON (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, Democrat and former diplomat, advocates a summit meeting in the United States with an invitation to Nikita Khrushchev of the Soviet Union.

Harriman tossed this idea on the table Friday during a 70-minute meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The former governor of New York and one-time ambassador to Moscow recently returned from a Soviet trip. He earlier reported that Khrushchev took a very tough line in talking with him about the Berlin crisis and other East-West areas of conflict.

Harriman talked with the foreign relations group after a conference with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his office just off the Senate floor. The meeting was Nixon's idea.

Harriman's views on easing U.S.-Soviet tension got considerable support from committee members.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said he felt very strongly there should be a summit conference, or even a series of them, in a patient effort to solve these problems.

He endorsed the idea that Khrushchev should be invited to visit the United States, either for a summit talk or just to learn more about the country.

President Eisenhower, while showing no great enthusiasm for a Khrushchev visit, has not ruled it out.

"I am confident that the same close unity among the Western Allies which brightened our work at Geneva will again prevail."

Herter, who talked with President Eisenhower and other top officials Friday, planned to make his first stop in Ottawa today.

In the Canadian capital he will confer with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Foreign Secretary Howard Green.

He commented in mentioning the Canadian conferences that "in the difficult period ahead the continuing close friendship between Canada and the United States on the basic issues involved will be invaluable."

He will leave Ottawa at 6 p.m. for Geneva via a fueling stop at Harmon, Newfoundland, and is expected to arrive at the Swiss city at 9 a.m. Sunday.

The Canadians were believed likely to put in a plug for the British view—that a summit conference should be held regardless of whether the foreign ministers make progress at Geneva. Eisenhower says the Geneva talks must make some headway to justify a meeting of the heads of state.

The Soviets, who also are pushing for a summit parley, touched off the German crisis by demanding an end to the postwar occupation of Communist-encircled West Berlin. Britain, France and the United States refused to yield the city's access to the free world.

Reports from London said Britain obtained a strong private indication from the Kremlin Friday that the Soviets are ready to respect Western rights in Berlin at least until early 1961.

It was the third assurance passed to the West that the Soviet Union is prepared to freeze the Berlin crisis if agreement can be reached on various "improvements" to ease tensions in Berlin and all Germany, competent sources said.

These developments, hitherto secret, clearly lay behind the confidence of Prime Minister Macmillan's government that an East-West summit conference will be held, the reports said. Some authorities in London are guessing that the first of a series of summit meetings would be held in Geneva in late August or mid-September with a series of rolling negotiations by foreign ministers on grave problems of Europe sandwiched between the summit sessions.

With Invitation To Khrushchev

Summit Meeting In U.S. Advocated By Harriman

WASHINGTON (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, Democrat and former diplomat, advocates a summit meeting in the United States with an invitation to Nikita Khrushchev of the Soviet Union.

Harriman tossed this idea on the table Friday during a 70-minute meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The former governor of New York and one-time ambassador to Moscow recently returned from a Soviet trip. He earlier reported that Khrushchev took a very tough line in talking with him about the Berlin crisis and other East-West areas of conflict.

Harriman talked with the foreign relations group after a conference with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his office just off the Senate floor. The meeting was Nixon's idea.

Harriman's views on easing U.S.-Soviet tension got considerable support from committee members.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said he felt very strongly there should be a summit conference, or even a series of them, in a patient effort to solve these problems.

He endorsed the idea that Khrushchev should be invited to visit the United States, either for a summit talk or just to learn more about the country.

President Eisenhower, while showing no great enthusiasm for a Khrushchev visit, has not ruled it out.

3 Democratic Senators Rap Party Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Democratic senators added their voices today to swelling criticism of National Chairman Paul Butler for his attacks on party congressional leaders.

Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala), Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) and Gale W. McGee (D-Wyo) stoutly defended the course Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has taken in attempting to tailor legislation to avoid presidential vetoes. Sparkman, Jackson and McGee are rated as liberals on most issues.

Butler will get a chance at an afternoon news conference to comment further on his previously expressed view that the party's congressional leaders are compromising with the GOP administration too often and thus are not welding a program on which the Democrats can win in 1960.

Sparkman, the 1952 Vice Presidential nominee, wrote Johnson that what he called Butler's attack "on the record of the Democratic Congress generally and on the Democratic leadership specifically is unjustified and most unfortunate."

"The Congress is right to take into consideration the views of the executive branch," Sparkman said. "We would be wrong to strive only for issues and to disregard the importance of enacting greatly needed legislation.

"Just because the President and his advisers have chosen to play politics with the people's welfare does not make it wise or advisable for a Democratic Congress to do likewise."

Jackson said he thinks Butler used poor judgment in broadcasting on television an attack on the leaders. He said it was pretty late for the national chairman to try to explain them away.

"If he had these complaints in mind the first place to air them was with the leaders and not over TV," Jackson said. "So far as I know he has never registered any of his complaints with Democratic members of Congress."

McGee said in a separate interview he regards Butler's tactics as unfortunate.

"In the first place the record of the Democratic Senate is good this far and, in the second place, we haven't completed our work yet," he said.

Light, Golden Aloha Cake Is Hawaii-Inspired

Straight from the sunny, romantic land of Hawaii and coconut palms and orchids comes the inspiration for the luscious Golden Aloha Cake.

The tender, rich butter and cake flour homemaker layer cake, flavored with coconut milk, is frosted with a White Mountain Icing, fluffy with fresh coconut.

Though this elegant dessert is "made from scratch," even tropical weather conditions needn't frighten you away from this recipe.

The mixing method is simplified — butter, sugar and eggs are combined in the electric mixer; remaining dry ingredients are then added alternately with milk. Your oven is going just a little over half an hour.

Grated orange rind, added to the cake batter blends perfectly with the flavor of the fresh coconut.

Golden Aloha Cake

2-3 cup soft butter
1¾ cups sugar
2 eggs (1-3 to ½ cup)
3 cups sifted cake flour
2½ tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1¼ cups coconut milk
2 tsp. grated orange rind.

Heat oven to 350' (moderate). Grease well and dust with flour 2 round layer pans, 9x1½." Combine butter, sugar, eggs in mixing bowl. Beat 5 minutes high speed on mixer or by hand until fluffy (5 minutes total beating time). Sift together flour, baking powder, salt. Add alternately in four additions with milk. Start and end with dry ingredients. Beat on low speed just until smooth. Fold in grated orange rind. Pour into prepared pans. Bake 30 to 35 minutes.

U.S. Will Seek To Try Mack, Whiteside Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says it will try Richard A. Mack and Thurman A. Whiteside again if it can. Their 14-week trial ended Friday in a hung jury.

They were charged with plotting to rig the award of a Miami television channel while Mack was a member of the Federal Communications Commission. Whiteside is a Miami lawyer.

But whether the government can bring them to trial again depends on a pending decision of Federal Judge Burnita S. Matthews.

Before the case went to the jury defense lawyers asked for a directed acquittal. Judge Matthews, in an unusual step, reserved her decision and sent the case to the jury.

Asylum Requested

VIENNA (AP) — A Romanian who spent four days in a sealed railway freight car, half crazed with thirst, requested asylum here, police reported. 5 Young Boys Drowned In Ohio Waters

By The Associated Press

Two young brothers drowned in Lima—one when he went to the other's rescue — and three other boys met similar fates in Ohio Friday.

In Lima, Roy Collins Jr., 7, jumped into Schoonover Lake in an attempt to rescue his brother, David, 5, who had fallen in while walking along the bank. David's body was recovered first and Roy's soon after.

Near Coshocton, on the House of Jacob Church farm settlement, Richard Hall, 13, of Youngstown, was wading in a pond and apparently went beyond his depth. He drowned despite the efforts of Wildersee Harris, 21, who was almost dragged under himself while trying to save young Hall, a guest at the farm.

In Springfield, 15 - month - old Michael Lee Reynolds was found lying face down in the water of a wading pool in his yard. Resuscitation efforts failed.

A 12-year-old, George H. Harmon, also went wading and apparently drowned. They were dragging the Ohio River for his body, three miles south of Marietta.

Cubans Use Quintana Roo As Military Base

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Cuban mercenaries planning an invasion of Nicaragua have turned the coast of the territory of Quintana Roo into a military base, the newspaper Excelsior said today.

The report was in a dispatch from Chetumal, capital of the territory, by a reporter sent to check reports of Cuban activities in the area.

At least a dozen Cubans who landed on the coast of Quintana Roo have been deported in recent weeks. The territory lies in southeast Mexico along the Yucatan Peninsula on the Caribbean.

Steel

their refusal to raise wages or benefits resulting in any cost increases.

Instead, the industry bargaining team headed by R. Conrad Cooper, U.S. Steel Corp. vice president, has been insisting on contract changes that would give steel firms more leeway in making work assignments and otherwise slashing operating costs.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers Union president, has pledged "no backward step" from present contract terms.

But the industry has indicated it may come up with a money offer if the union gives ground on allowing more management prerogatives.

The bargaining was proceeding at an accelerated pace with many steel firms planning to start Sunday on the job of cooling open hearths and blast furnaces to get ready for a possible Tuesday night walkout.

This is a costly operation that the industry would like to avoid if it sees any chance of a peaceful settlement.

McDonald has called his union's executive board and 171 - man wage-policy committee to a meeting here Monday to consider either any settlement plan or strike preparations.

It was still impossible to tell whether the stepped-up talks would avert a walkout of half a million steel unionists that would close down about 90 per cent of the nation's steel-making facilities.

It was indicated the union's rock-bottom terms are about 10 cents an hour. Workers now earn about $3.10 per hour.

Banker

Barker said he suggested a cup of coffee while he and his family waited for Hayward, but that he made only boiling water. Returning from the kitchen, he splashed the scalding water in Hayward's face when the bandit held out his cup. Then Barker seized the bandit's revolver and beat him into submission with the weapon.

When Bray and the policeman returned to the house, the banker had loaded a shotgun and was waiting for them at the front door. Taunton opened the door and then jumped to safety as Barker shot Bray in the chest at pointblank range. The banker had wounded the other holdup man a short time earlier when he refused to obey a command, after the beating, to move from one room to another.

Barker said he was frightened during the ordeal but that he was more mad anything else.

"I got sure-enough mad," he added, "when the big one (Bray) kept talking about killing us."

A Paradox In The Legislature

School Foundation Ruled By 'Political Expediency'

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—One of the most interesting paradoxes of the Ohio Legislature is the School Foundation program, under which public schools get financial help from the state.

Everybody is in favor of education, but the school aid setup is biennially one of the biggest political footballs in the General Assembly.

Theoretically, the program is supposed to be for equalization. This means the state would give financial aid to poor school districts so their children would have the same education benefits the children in wealthier districts get.

In practice, however, equalization plays a relatively minor role in the program. Under present law, for instance, every school district in the state, regardless of its wealth, gets at least $1,925 in aid for each classroom unit.

THE REASON for this is the simple one called "political expediency." Some of the wealthiest school districts send the biggest delegations to the Legislature. The only way to get any state aid for poorer districts is to give some to the rich ones, too.

The way this works has been illustrated amply in the ups and downs of the House bill now going through the legislative mill.

In its original form, it would have cut of all aid from the 41 wealthiest of the more than 1,000 school districts in the state in order to help the poor ones more.

It was co-sponsored by Rep. Paul B. Siple (D-Lawrence), chairman of the House Education Committee, and Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr. (D-Scioto), whose home town is the wealthy district of New Boston but whose county has several poor districts.

THE NEWS of this drastic change in the program reached the ears of the 17-man Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) delegation about the time the crucial sales tax increase was up for a House vote.

They quickly figured out that Cuyahoga districts stood to lose in the neighborhood of four million dollars in state aid under the plan. Just as quickly they passed the word to the House leadership that there would be few, if any, Cuyahoga votes for the sales tax bill unless the school aid proposal was changed.

Despite their control of the House, the Democrats just can't afford to lose 17 votes. So a confab with Speaker James A. Lantz brought the Clevelanders a promise that a compromise would be worked out on the school bill.

Hovering in the background during the maneuvering was the nine-man Hamilton County (Cincinnati) group, second biggest in the House and representing other wealthy districts that stood to lose.

THE COMPROMISE restored state aid for 12 of the 41 wealthy districts, including most of those in Cuyahoga and all of those in Hamilton.

The sponsors were not happy with watering - down of their attempt to accomplish real equalization, but politics is politics. So the bill came out of committee that way.

But even that was not enough for the Hamilton and Cuyahoga people. When the bill came to the floor last Thursday, Rep. Gordon F. Reckman (R-Cincinnati) offered an amendment to raise the "flat" or nonequalization grant to $2,000 and include even more of the wealthy districts.

To balance the $75 increase, he proposed cutting $75 off the "current expense" or equalization factor, putting it at $1,725.

With the help of the Cuyahogans and representatives of other isolated rich districts, he got his amendment through.

THEN REP. Harold Oyster (R-Washington) tried to amend the bill further to put back even the very wealthy districts that still were excluded. The reason, he admitted on the floor, was because a couple of them were in his county.

Termed by opponents "the final emasculation of this effort to get real equalization," that amendment was defeated.

Then, because "everybody is in favor of education," the bill passed 132-1.

The lone dissenter was Siple, who said his "nay" was simply a protest against the Reckman amendment, which Siple said would give money to wealthy school districts at the expense of poorer districts.

The "final emasculation" may yet come. Several senators already have served notice they plan to do some more work on the bill when they get it during the coming week. And the wealthy districts have an even bigger voice in the upper chamber than they do in the House.

Jet Fighter Fails In Vertical Launching

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — An F100 jet fighter failed to attain flying speed Friday as it was blasted from its vertical launching pad by its missile propellant rocket.

The failure marked the debut of the first of a series of tests planned at Holloman Air Force Base in vertical launchings. The propelling rocket disengaged from the craft and blew up just above the launching tower.

The tower was damaged from the explosion but no one was believed to have been injured in the blast. The plane was not manned and plunged into the ground after a half-mile flight.

A Paradox In The Legislature

School Foundation Ruled By 'Political Expediency'

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—One of the most interesting paradoxes of the Ohio Legislature is the School Foundation program, under which public schools get financial help from the state.

Everybody is in favor of education, but the school aid setup is biennially one of the biggest political footballs in the General Assembly.

Theoretically, the program is supposed to be for equalization. This means the state would give financial aid to poor school districts so their children would have the same education benefits the children in wealthier districts get.

In practice, however, equalization plays a relatively minor role in the program. Under present law, for instance, every school district in the state, regardless of its wealth, gets at least $1,925 in aid for each classroom unit.

THE REASON for this is the simple one called "political expediency." Some of the wealthiest school districts send the biggest delegations to the Legislature. The only way to get any state aid for poorer districts is to give some to the rich ones, too.

The way this works has been illustrated amply in the ups and downs of the House bill now going through the legislative mill.

In its original form, it would have cut of all aid from the 41 wealthiest of the more than 1,000 school districts in the state in order to help the poor ones more.

It was co-sponsored by Rep. Paul B. Siple (D-Lawrence), chairman of the House Education Committee, and Rep. Vernal G. Riffe Jr. (D-Scioto), whose home town is the wealthy district of New Boston but whose county has several poor districts.

THE NEWS of this drastic change in the program reached the ears of the 17-man Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) delegation about the time the crucial sales tax increase was up for a House vote.

They quickly figured out that Cuyahoga districts stood to lose in the neighborhood of four million dollars in state aid under the plan. Just as quickly they passed the word to the House leadership that there would be few, if any, Cuyahoga votes for the sales tax bill unless the school aid proposal was changed.

Despite their control of the House, the Democrats just can't afford to lose 17 votes. So a confab with Speaker James A. Lantz brought the Clevelanders a promise that a compromise would be worked out on the school bill.

Hovering in the background during the maneuvering was the nine-man Hamilton County (Cincinnati) group, second biggest in the House and representing other wealthy districts that stood to lose.

THE COMPROMISE restored state aid for 12 of the 41 wealthy districts, including most of those in Cuyahoga and all of those in Hamilton.

The sponsors were not happy with watering - down of their attempt to accomplish real equalization, but politics is politics. So the bill came out of committee that way.

But even that was not enough for the Hamilton and Cuyahoga people. When the bill came to the floor last Thursday, Rep. Gordon F. Reckman (R-Cincinnati) offered an amendment to raise the "flat" or nonequalization grant to $2,000 and include even more of the wealthy districts.

To balance the $75 increase, he proposed cutting $75 off the "current expense" or equalization factor, putting it at $1,725.

THEN REP. Harold Oyster (R-Washington) tried to amend the bill further to put back even the very wealthy districts that still were excluded. The reason, he admitted on the floor, was because a couple of them were in his county.

Termed by opponents "the final emasculation of this effort to get real equalization," that amendment was defeated.

Then, because "everybody is in favor of education," the bill passed 132-1.

The lone dissenter was Siple, who said his "nay" was simply a protest against the Reckman amendment, which Siple said would give money to wealthy school districts at the expense of poorer districts.

The "final emasculation" may yet come. Several senators already have served notice they plan to do some more work on the bill when they get it during the coming week. And the wealthy districts have an even bigger voice in the upper chamber than they do in the House.

Good News For Ohio Hoodlums

It is difficult to understand why a committee comprised mostly of lawyers would shy away from the criminal conspiracy legislation which Gov. DiSalle had requested.

That is what happened in the Ohio Senate's Judiciary Committee, which voted 5-1 against recommending the bill which previously had been passed unanimously by the House. Sen. Danny Johnson (D-New Philadelphia) was the one lawyer who thought the bill ought to be passed.

Perhaps the answer is that Sen. Johnson was a county prosecutor and knows the difficulties of convicting criminals under Ohio's laws. Perhaps the other lawyers on the committee laid too much emphasis in their own thinking on the basic rights guaranteed to individuals in criminal proceedings.

MANY LAWYERS will tell you they would rather have a hundred guilty persons go free than to have one innocent person convicted. No one wants an innocent person convicted, and every accused individual under the American system is presumed to be innocent until he is proved guilty. There should be no change in that.

What Gov. DiSalle wants—and what the House had endorsed—is some means of getting at the really guilty criminal who operates behind the scenes and cannot be touched under Ohio's present criminal statues.

Thus, the conspiracy approach was made by the governor. The bottled-up bill would have made it a crime in Ohio to conspire to commit any felony. It would be, in a sense, preventive law enforcement.

Take the big-scale gambling racketeer. His place is raided and the dealer is arrested. The dealer takes the rap. The owner wasn't there and remains free to carry on his illicit business with some other hired hand. The owner cannot be convicted, even though he finances the racket and takes the profit from it. He has committed no crime; he has merely organized it!

Under present Ohio criminal law, a crime must be actually committed before a conviction can be obtained. The police, in effect, must sit by, watching the burglar break into the building and steal the goods before they can make a burglary arrest, even though they know the intent.

SOME STATES—notably New York and Illinois—have criminal conspiracy statues. So does the federal government. Ohio needs one, too.

Making the conspiracy itself a crime does not necessarily give prosecutors carte blanche to go after every behind-the-scenes suspect. They must prove the conspiracy first, as they must prove the crime now.

But the proposed statute would give every prosecutor a powerful weapon to try to use against conspirators. It could be so powerful that it could deter illicit rackets in the first place.

It is worth a try.

It Pays To Be 'Safe And Sane'

Another safe - and - sane Fourth of July has come and gone, but here and there accidents still appear despite extensive safeguards.

Thursday a Canton youth was injured when a fireworks bomb exploded prematurely and maimed one of his hands. This is but one of many mishaps that occur over the United States before and after each Independence Day.

Little can be done for those already hurt, but their misfortune can serve as an object lesson for others — youngsters and parents alike.

The sale of fireworks has been banned in East Liverpool and other Ohio communities and in the great majority of states. But there are a few—including Georgia and South Carolina—which still allow them to be purchased legally. Frequently, some of these 'crackers find their way to the northern states, either by request or through the generosity of well-intentioned but non-thinking friends. And, too, there probably always will be illegal sales in one form or the other. So the youngsters do have a chance of obtaining fireworks despite the official ban in Ohio.

Therefore, preventive steps must continue at the home level. This calls for sternness by parents. A firm "No" should mark all appeals from youngsters for fireworks regardless of whether "the kids next door" have them.

The average parent, recalling the "Glorious Fourths" of his or her day, often is reluctant to crack down on what once was considered good, clean fun. But it should be remembered, things have changed. Today's explosives, in most case, are more powerful and consequently more dangerous than those of the past.

An injury for life is a dreadful price to pay for a moment of pleasure. It's something for parents to think about between now and next July 4.

Cranking Up The Legal Machinery

On June 3, President Eisenhower said he would have to wait until a steel strike appeared to be imminent before deciding whether to use the cooling-off provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

These provisions were put into the act in the belief that most strikes could be averted if they could be postponed long enough. The psychology that was supposed to bring about this effect has been spotty in practice. Out of 11 instances in which strikes were postponed by federal injunctions, only two settlements were forthcoming. In the other nine instances, there were strikes after postponement of the original strike deadline.

If the President decides to use federal intervention to stop a steel strike, the first step will be appointment of an emergency board to investigate the facts of the dispute. The board can make no recommendations; it must report solely on facts.

When its report has been turned over to the U.S. attorney general, he may ask a federal district court to issue an injunction forbidding a strike or lockout for 80 days. At the end of 60 days, if continued mediation has produced no results, the White House is authorized to order the emergency board to make a report on the current positions of both parties, with particular emphasis on the company's last offer.

The National Labor Relations Board then is required to conduct a ballot on the last offer. This is where the psychology of the Taft-Hartley Act has been spotty. Workers uniformly have rejected last offers.

The injunction expires at the end of 80 days, but there is still one more step—a presidential report to Congress, with recommendations for action.

The President's authority is discretionary. He may choose not to use it, on the grounds there is no threat of an emergency to the national health or safety. In that event, the steel strike that has hung over the heads of workers, managers, consumers and everybody directly concerned with what happens in the country's key industry would be allowed to drop on schedule on July 15.

A Visit From Kozlov

Another mental impression of America was registered today on the mind of Frol Kozlov, Russian first deputy premier.

This time it was close to home as he visited the atomic power plant at Shippingport and caught a glimpse in the distance of the industrial might that is the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

It stands to reason that the deputy premier must be developing a new understanding of America—somewhat different from the distorted outline relayed so often by Red diplomats and agents. Even in Russia, "seeing must be believing."

We have our faults, to be sure, but certainly don't feel that "decadency" is one of them.

It would be interesting to learn exactly what mental impression was carried away from the district by the visitor from Russia.

The Once Over

The auto industry is readying small cars for 1960 but it's a gamble whether Mr. and Mrs. America will shake off the yen to arrive at a cocktail party, PTA meeting or clambake in a car they can't afford. Tom, Dick and Harry have always been determined to seem as well-heeled in transit as Pierpont, Averell and Cornelius.

The car in front of Sam Jones' $10,000 bungalow has had to be as impressive as the one outside the sumptuous Waddingham mansion, give or take a fender-fin variatior

Detroit, aroused by rising tales of European Tom Thumb models, has decided to go after the market but not without doubts that the typical high rolling American will change his act and appear in an Ebenezer Scrooge make-up.

Glamour, cheesecake and luxury fittings are in his blood. He wants to have his accidents in the style to which he has become accustomed and get arrested in a machine with pushbutton windows.

WILL MR. BROWN in a small car be able to crowd Mr. Smith off the road in his big model? That's the question. Even if it's a photo finish, the fellow in the car two feet shorter and with lighter bumpers is going to feel he has been denied his constitutional rights guaranteeing him life, liberty, and the pursuit of self-importance.

Economy may mean a demand for an auto from which a man may say, "Fill her up," without choking on his words. And an auto that can be parked without help of a trained wrestler will have wide appeal. GM will put the engine in the rear. Okay, unless it puts the windshield wiper behind the spare tire.

INDUSTRIALIST SAYS you can soon get a full-course meal from slot machines installed in apartment houses, drugstores, etc. It would be our luck to drop in a quarter for a filet mignon and get the usual three lemons.

Man predicts supermarkets will ultimately service the home through electronic cooking, making it unnecessary for the wife to shop for groceries. Housewives will never stand for this. They demand the right to battle it out aisle by aisle and counter by counter.

U.S. aviation agency demands that airlines ban drinks on planes except when served by the hostess and none served to a passenger "potted" upon arrival. This is the only solution. You can't throw a drunk out of a plane.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

The Faith Americans Live By

Faith plays a part today in the lives of ordinary Americans going about their everyday business—as I found during a recent cross country trip just by talking to taxicab drivers.

In Denver, cabbie Joseph Walsh told me about a lady he drove to a hospital: "I could tell she had to break a kid's bank when she handed me 70 pennies for the fare. She told me she had to take her grandson's pennies in order to get to the hospital to be with her dying daughter. I paid the fare, told her to return the pennies, waited and drove her home."

In New York on my way to Pennsylvania Station, good natured cabbie No. 67555 told me, "I always carry a Bible in the front seat."

In Cleveland, cabbie Tom Davis, a Negro, talked of God's love as the meter ticked. "I try to practice religion in my cab . . . I carry a Bible and start my day off with the 23rd Psalm . . . Had an old lady from the Golden Age Center and she wanted to give me a tip, but I said 'I can't take anything from you, I like to help you, it does something within.' For safe and sane driving, for holding up traffic until a child safely crossed a street and for many courtesies, he was chosen "Cabbie of the Year" in Cleveland.

And in my home town of Palo Alto, Calif., Jack Gansel carries a Bible with him in his cab. "It's a comfort," he told me.

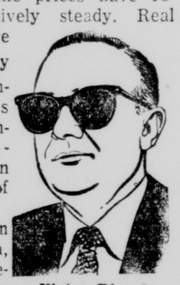

Morton Reviews GOP Program

By Victor Riesel

(Soon this country will be deep in the next presidential campaign. The man who will direct the Republican drive is Sen. Thruston B. Morton, new GOP national chairman. Asked how he believed the millions on millions of rank-and-file union people would vote in '60 —and why—here is his reply. —Victor Riesel.)

By THRUSTON B. MORTON

"Our trade unions have continued to obtain substantial wage advances, while prices have remained relatively steady. Real wages are showing very significant increases. This means a continuously rising American standard of living."

Victor Riesel

Republican propaganda, you say, delivered by the Republican National Committee chairman?

Not at all. The quotation is from an article written earlier this year by George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

The quotation sets forth the broad basic reason why the Republican nominee for the presidency in 1960 again is going to receive the votes of an overwhelming majority of America's workers and at least a near-majority of the votes of union members, despite whatever may be the political leanings of the unions' leadership.

THE SIMPLE but monumental fact is that since 1953 America's workers, both union and non-union, have made more personal economic progress than in any comparable period in our history.

Another testimonial came from a union source in February of this year, when "The Machinist," official organ of the AFL-CIO Machinists' Union, published a research study aimed at finding out whether the American worker had more purchasing power in 1953, 1948 or 1938.

The verdict was overwhelmingly in favor of 1958, the sixth year of our Republican administration.

"Almost everything is cheaper" now than in 1948 or 1938, said "The Machinist," when prices are measured against the time it takes to earn the money to buy things. "The Machinist" cited an impressive list of examples, including these:

In 1938 it took 12 minutes of work to earn enough to buy a quart of milk. By 1958 this had almost been cut in half — the required 1958 labor for the price of a quart of milk is 7¼ minutes. In a family which uses two quarts of milk daily, in other words, the wage-earner now works 89 fewer hours over a year to pay his annual milk bill — this is more than a two-week saving!

For two packs of cigarettes, "The Machinist" reported, 24 minutes' work was required in 1938 against a required 12 minutes' work today—a 100 per cent reduction in required labor.

HARD FACTS and documented realities such as these will stand up against the flood of "things-were - never - worse" propaganda which is hitting workers' families from sources more interested in political power in the opposition party than in the economic status of the workers.

All measurements confirm the findings of Mr. Meany and the Machinists Union.

Personal income, factory income, savings, consumer expenditures — all are at record levels.

Prices have remained steady for about the past year — the longest period of such stability in history.

Social Security has been made almost universal and benefits have been improved. The minimum wage has been increased.

Compared with 1952, more than seven million more American families have incomes of $4,000 or more while those limited to $2,000 or less have been reduced a stunning two million — this is real migration upward in the income brackets for everybody.

And this is the economic record on which we will run in 1960, a year for which every indicator points to the greatest American prosperity in history, nurtured and promoted by sound Republican policies.

This is a record which needs no defense, only effective presentation.

In the United States Capitol in Washington today, a tremendous battle is going on which involves the security and future of every American worker. This is the so-called "Battle of the Budget."

THIS BATTLE is far deeper than most generalizations would indicate. It's not a matter of penny pinching. It's not a matter of cold numbers on a balance sheet. And it's not a matter of partisan politics.

National security and personal security are involved and America's workers especially are involved.

The issue might be stated thus: What does it profit a man to labor his entire life if what he is laboring for becomes worthless when he is ready to enjoy it?

That is what inflation does to hard-earned savings, investments, Social Security payments, insurance policies and the pension plans on which so many millions rely for retirement income. And deficit spending by the federal government is a definite major factor in inflation.

Consider a typical retired senior citizen. He's 76 years old now, 11 years retired. When he retired he figured — reasonably — that his $200 a month pension would let him live out his days in comfort.

What he didn't figure on, however, was the 50 per cent price rise skyrocket sent up by the Truman administration during a Democratic era in which the value of the dollar was being halved through inflation and deficit government spending. So today the retired gentleman is dependent on the charity of distant relatives.

THIS IS THE TYPE of thing which the Republican party is fighting against — it's what the Battle of the Budget is all about —and we've been largely successful. Since 1953, loss in dollar value has been less than a nickel, and the 50 per cent price rise of the Democrats has been slowed to a six-year increase of just 8 per cent. For the past year consumer prices have been steady.

This is a record and an economic policy which deserves and will get the support of those hurt worst by inflation — those on fixed incomes, those with savings accounts, insurance policies, pension and all other types of retirement plans.

If we can hold the spending line against inflation today — a time of rising prosperity — then the future will be more secure and brighter, both for the nation as a whole and for each individual family.

Up In A Balloon

In an age of artificial satellites and rockets, the balloon is far from obsolete.

Huge, high-flying balloons are exploring the edge of space and sending back valuable data on astrophysics, astronomy, meteorology and aeromedicine.

To study cosmic rays, the Navy plans to launch over the Pacific next winter two of the largest balloons ever made. Each will hold almost 10 million cubic feet of helium.

The giant plastic bags are designed to soar 120,000 feet into the sky carrying 700-pound stacks of photographic plates in airtight gondolas. Cosmic rays striking the plates will leave trails on the film, which can be studied to obtain clues to their energy and origin. Scientists hope to record rays with forces of 10,000 billion electron volts.

The experiment is part of the extensive space research program carried on by the Office of Naval Research in its Skyhook and Strato-Lab projects.

Freedom Of Association

By David Lawrence

Law Cannot End Individual Discrimination

President Eisenhower really said nothing novel when he explained at his press conference this week that he favors "equality of opportunity in both the economic and the political fields" for all citizens and, that if a Catholic happened to be "really a qualified, responsible individual running for office, my vote would never be changed on the basis of his religion."

David Lawrence

The President has always made it clear that he favors equal opportunity for all citizens where governmental action is concerned. What the President was careful to omit from his comments was any intimation that the individual citizen has lost his right to discriminate in social or personal associations with other citizens.

This right is called "freedom of association," and it has the backing of the latest decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States which, time and again, have drawn a line between the right of individual choice where private schools or clubs or other organizations are concerned and the citizen's rights in public facilities of any kind.

Indeed, the President recognizes the right of any citizen to allow his religious prejudices, or any other bias, to govern his own vote.

WHEN ASKED whether the electorate would be influenced by a religious issue, Mr. Eisenhower frankly said he doesn't know "whether or not the thinking of the country has changed" since Al Smith, a Catholic, was defeated for the presidency on the Democratic ticket in 1928 by Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee.

One of the newsmen at the press conference also asked the President if, "quite apart from the legalisms of the situation," he has "any opinion as to whether racial segregation is morally wrong."

Mr. Eisenhower replied that "certain phases of segregation," such as "segregation by local laws," that interfere with the citizen's "equality of opportunity in both the economic and the political fields" would seem to him to be "morally wrong."

The whole problem has its roots in the differences of opinion among individuals as to their "freedom of association."

In recent years there has emerged a wide acceptance of the doctrine that there should be equality of opportunity in the economic field.

During many decades in this nation's history, however, women, irrespective of color or race, were discriminated against. Today there is a growing feeling that equal pay should be given for equal work to every individual, even though this is not generally a legal requirement.

In the political field, equality of opportunity is still affected by the right of the voter to discriminate in his selection of public officials. He need give no reason for his vote, which is secret.

As for the use of public facilities, on the other hand, the theory that the government itself may not discriminate has been a subject of lengthy controversy.

THE COURTS have not always defined "discrimination" in the same way. Thus, for many years, the Supreme Court ruled that as long a separate facilities of a public nature were equal in quality, no legal discrimination was involved, and that separate schools were no violation of the 14th Amendment's clause guaranteeing "equal protection of the laws." In 1954, however, the Supreme Court ruled that, unless the races are permitted to mingle in the classrooms of public schools, there is no equality of education itself. The argument was made by the court that there has to be a mingling of minds and that to separate students by race is to create a sense of inferiority.

It is this combination of social and educational factors which has really caused the bitterest controversy, as well as given rise to expressions on the part of many lawyers and jurists that the Constitution was properly interpreted years ago when it was held that the states, and not the federal government, should decide who shall or shall not be admitted to a particular public school.

IN A SENSE, Dr. Ralph Bunche, prominent Negro who is a United Nations official, recognized the other day the legality of private discrimination. While conceding that a private club may exclude whom it pleases from membership, he went on to denounce as, "shocking in New York City" the refusal of the West Side Tennis Club to grant membership to himself or to his son. Dr. Bunche has every right to take his case to the court of public opinion but, followed to its logical conclusion, there can be no conformity by coercion.

If discrimination is to be abolished in every human relationship, it must come from the voluntary acts of individuals. This, to be sure, brings out deep-seated differences of viewpoint about social mixing and its effects in such controversial fields as intermarriage. It is quite possible that the Supreme Court of the United States someday may strike down as invalid those state laws which today prohibit intermarriage between the races. But the right to discriminate in picking one's mate will hardly be taken away by law, inasmuch as the Constitution, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, guarantees "freedom of association."

Letter To The Editor

Would you grant me a small space in your newspaper to emphasize a matter that has already appeared there, but has not received the attention it deserves; I refer to the meeting of our Board of Education on Monday, June 15.

At that meeting three gentlemen were present (Negroes) and two of them expressed to the board their desire that their daughters, who are qualified teachers and have already taught elsewhere, may put in their application here and have some assurance that they would receive favorable consideration.

One of these two ladies is a native of East Liverpool, passed through our schools and then qualified as a teacher, and put in her application here, but received no encouragement or hope for success. The father of our native applicant also had a personal interview with our superintendent, or some member of his staff, with discouraging results also, so the young lady was compelled to apply elsewhere, against her own and her families desire; it is good to know that she had better success away, and can add experience to her former qualifications.

East Liverpool has been good to me and good for me during the 45 years that I have lived here and I have a great desire for the success and progress of our city, but the attitude displayed at that board meeting by its members is not good for anyone, in my opinion.

Within the past month, I read in our Review extracts from a speech made by Vice President Nixon, in which he deplored the embarrassment he encountered when traveling as an ambassador of goodwill to Africa and the Near East; speaking of the United States help and aid to countries in need, and at the same time called on to answer, Then why do you refuse to our native Negroes the full rights of citizenship and deny and repress to them the opportunities of progress and advancement.

During the past year or two the citizens of East Liverpool have been gratified by the number of letters of commendation to our Police Department printed in The Review, and emphasized last week by Martin Silverman of Harvey Ave. Yes sir, it is "Hats off for a job well done". And may I congratulate them, too, on another point of their progress, the appointment of Negroes now in uniform on the force.

Wake up, our educators! The time is ripe. This is 1959; back of us are almost two thousand years of Christian civilization and progress. Quit your prejudice and open the doors of opportunity to all, White and Negro. Let us make it that neither our vice president, Mr. Nixon, or any other citizen of the U. S. A., may have this reproach put upon them.

Good News For Ohio Hoodlums

It is difficult to understand why a committee comprised mostly of lawyers would shy away from the criminal conspiracy legislation which Gov. DiSalle had requested.

That is what happened in the Ohio Senate's Judiciary Committee, which voted 5-1 against recommending the bill which previously had been passed unanimously by the House. Sen. Danny Johnson (D-New Philadelphia) was the one lawyer who thought the bill ought to be passed.

Perhaps the answer is that Sen. Johnson was a county prosecutor and knows the difficulties of convicting criminals under Ohio's laws. Perhaps the other lawyers on the committee laid too much emphasis in their own thinking on the basic rights guaranteed to individuals in criminal proceedings.

MANY LAWYERS will tell you they would rather have a hundred guilty persons go free than to have one innocent person convicted. No one wants an innocent person convicted, and every accused individual under the American system is presumed to be innocent until he is proved guilty. There should be no change in that.

What Gov. DiSalle wants—and what the House had endorsed—is some means of getting at the really guilty criminal who operates behind the scenes and cannot be touched under Ohio's present criminal statues.

Thus, the conspiracy approach was made by the governor. The bottled-up bill would have made it a crime in Ohio to conspire to commit any felony. It would be, in a sense, preventive law enforcement.

Take the big-scale gambling racketeer. His place is raided and the dealer is arrested. The dealer takes the rap. The owner wasn't there and remains free to carry on his illicit business with some other hired hand. The owner cannot be convicted, even though he finances the racket and takes the profit from it. He has committed no crime; he has merely organized it!

Under present Ohio criminal law, a crime must be actually committed before a conviction can be obtained. The police, in effect, must sit by, watching the burglar break into the building and steal the goods before they can make a burglary arrest, even though they know the intent.

SOME STATES—notably New York and Illinois—have criminal conspiracy statues. So does the federal government. Ohio needs one, too.

Making the conspiracy itself a crime does not necessarily give prosecutors carte blanche to go after every behind-the-scenes suspect. They must prove the conspiracy first, as they must prove the crime now.

But the proposed statute would give every prosecutor a powerful weapon to try to use against conspirators. It could be so powerful that it could deter illicit rackets in the first place.

It is worth a try.

It Pays To Be 'Safe And Sane'

Another safe - and - sane Fourth of July has come and gone, but here and there accidents still appear despite extensive safeguards.

Thursday a Canton youth was injured when a fireworks bomb exploded prematurely and maimed one of his hands. This is but one of many mishaps that occur over the United States before and after each Independence Day.

Little can be done for those already hurt, but their misfortune can serve as an object lesson for others — youngsters and parents alike.

The sale of fireworks has been banned in East Liverpool and other Ohio communities and in the great majority of states. But there are a few—including Georgia and South Carolina—which still allow them to be purchased legally. Frequently, some of these 'crackers find their way to the northern states, either by request or through the generosity of well-intentioned but non-thinking friends. And, too, there probably always will be illegal sales in one form or the other. So the youngsters do have a chance of obtaining fireworks despite the official ban in Ohio.

Therefore, preventive steps must continue at the home level. This calls for sternness by parents. A firm "No" should mark all appeals from youngsters for fireworks regardless of whether "the kids next door" have them.

The average parent, recalling the "Glorious Fourths" of his or her day, often is reluctant to crack down on what once was considered good, clean fun. But it should be remembered, things have changed. Today's explosives, in most case, are more powerful and consequently more dangerous than those of the past.

An injury for life is a dreadful price to pay for a moment of pleasure. It's something for parents to think about between now and next July 4.

Cranking Up The Legal Machinery

On June 3, President Eisenhower said he would have to wait until a steel strike appeared to be imminent before deciding whether to use the cooling-off provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

These provisions were put into the act in the belief that most strikes could be averted if they could be postponed long enough. The psychology that was supposed to bring about this effect has been spotty in practice. Out of 11 instances in which strikes were postponed by federal injunctions, only two settlements were forthcoming. In the other nine instances, there were strikes after postponement of the original strike deadline.

If the President decides to use federal intervention to stop a steel strike, the first step will be appointment of an emergency board to investigate the facts of the dispute. The board can make no recommendations; it must report solely on facts.

When its report has been turned over to the U.S. attorney general, he may ask a federal district court to issue an injunction forbidding a strike or lockout for 80 days. At the end of 60 days, if continued mediation has produced no results, the White House is authorized to order the emergency board to make a report on the current positions of both parties, with particular emphasis on the company's last offer.

The National Labor Relations Board then is required to conduct a ballot on the last offer. This is where the psychology of the Taft-Hartley Act has been spotty. Workers uniformly have rejected last offers.

The injunction expires at the end of 80 days, but there is still one more step—a presidential report to Congress, with recommendations for action.

The President's authority is discretionary. He may choose not to use it, on the grounds there is no threat of an emergency to the national health or safety. In that event, the steel strike that has hung over the heads of workers, managers, consumers and everybody directly concerned with what happens in the country's key industry would be allowed to drop on schedule on July 15.

Prices have remained steady for about the past year — the longest period of such stability in history.

Social Security has been made almost universal and benefits have been improved. The minimum wage has been increased.

Compared with 1952, more than seven million more American families have incomes of $4,000 or more while those limited to $2,000 or less have been reduced a stunning two million — this is real migration upward in the income brackets for everybody.

And this is the economic record on which we will run in 1960, a year for which every indicator points to the greatest American prosperity in history, nurtured and promoted by sound Republican policies.

This is a record which needs no defense, only effective presentation.

In the United States Capitol in Washington today, a tremendous battle is going on which involves the security and future of every American worker. This is the so-called "Battle of the Budget."

THIS BATTLE is far deeper than most generalizations would indicate. It's not a matter of penny pinching. It's not a matter of cold numbers on a balance sheet. And it's not a matter of partisan politics.

National security and personal security are involved and America's workers especially are involved.

The issue might be stated thus: What does it profit a man to labor his entire life if what he is laboring for becomes worthless when he is ready to enjoy it?

That is what inflation does to hard-earned savings, investments, Social Security payments, insurance policies and the pension plans on which so many millions rely for retirement income. And deficit spending by the federal government is a definite major factor in inflation.

Consider a typical retired senior citizen. He's 76 years old now, 11 years retired. When he retired he figured — reasonably — that his $200 a month pension would let him live out his days in comfort.

What he didn't figure on, however, was the 50 per cent price rise skyrocket sent up by the Truman administration during a Democratic era in which the value of the dollar was being halved through inflation and deficit government spending. So today the retired gentleman is dependent on the charity of distant relatives.

THIS IS THE TYPE of thing which the Republican party is fighting against — it's what the Battle of the Budget is all about —and we've been largely successful. Since 1953, loss in dollar value has been less than a nickel, and the 50 per cent price rise of the Democrats has been slowed to a six-year increase of just 8 per cent. For the past year consumer prices have been steady.

This is a record and an economic policy which deserves and will get the support of those hurt worst by inflation — those on fixed incomes, those with savings accounts, insurance policies, pension and all other types of retirement plans.

If we can hold the spending line against inflation today — a time of rising prosperity — then the future will be more secure and brighter, both for the nation as a whole and for each individual family.

Up In A Balloon

In an age of artificial satellites and rockets, the balloon is far from obsolete.

Huge, high-flying balloons are exploring the edge of space and sending back valuable data on astrophysics, astronomy, meteorology and aeromedicine.

To study cosmic rays, the Navy plans to launch over the Pacific next winter two of the largest balloons ever made. Each will hold almost 10 million cubic feet of helium.

The giant plastic bags are designed to soar 120,000 feet into the sky carrying 700-pound stacks of photographic plates in airtight gondolas. Cosmic rays striking the plates will leave trails on the film, which can be studied to obtain clues to their energy and origin. Scientists hope to record rays with forces of 10,000 billion electron volts.

The experiment is part of the extensive space research program carried on by the Office of Naval Research in its Skyhook and Strato-Lab projects.

Freedom Of Association

By David Lawrence

Law Cannot End Individual Discrimination

President Eisenhower really said nothing novel when he explained at his press conference this week that he favors "equality of opportunity in both the economic and the political fields" for all citizens and, that if a Catholic happened to be "really a qualified, responsible individual running for office, my vote would never be changed on the basis of his religion."

David Lawrence

The President has always made it clear that he favors equal opportunity for all citizens where governmental action is concerned. What the President was careful to omit from his comments was any intimation that the individual citizen has lost his right to discriminate in social or personal associations with other citizens.

This right is called "freedom of association," and it has the backing of the latest decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States which, time and again, have drawn a line between the right of individual choice where private schools or clubs or other organizations are concerned and the citizen's rights in public facilities of any kind.

Indeed, the President recognizes the right of any citizen to allow his religious prejudices, or any other bias, to govern his own vote.

WHEN ASKED whether the electorate would be influenced by a religious issue, Mr. Eisenhower frankly said he doesn't know "whether or not the thinking of the country has changed" since Al Smith, a Catholic, was defeated for the presidency on the Democratic ticket in 1928 by Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee.

One of the newsmen at the press conference also asked the President if, "quite apart from the legalisms of the situation," he has "any opinion as to whether racial segregation is morally wrong."

Mr. Eisenhower replied that "certain phases of segregation," such as "segregation by local laws," that interfere with the citizen's "equality of opportunity in both the economic and the political fields" would seem to him to be "morally wrong."

The whole problem has its roots in the differences of opinion among individuals as to their "freedom of association."

In recent years there has emerged a wide acceptance of the doctrine that there should be equality of opportunity in the economic field.

During many decades in this nation's history, however, women, irrespective of color or race, were discriminated against. Today there is a growing feeling that equal pay should be given for equal work to every individual, even though this is not generally a legal requirement.

In the political field, equality of opportunity is still affected by the right of the voter to discriminate in his selection of public officials. He need give no reason for his vote, which is secret.

As for the use of public facilities, on the other hand, the theory that the government itself may not discriminate has been a subject of lengthy controversy.

THE COURTS have not always defined "discrimination" in the same way. Thus, for many years, the Supreme Court ruled that as long as separate facilities of a public nature were equal in quality, no legal discrimination was involved, and that separate schools were no violation of the 14th Amendment's clause guaranteeing "equal protection of the laws." In 1954, however, the Supreme Court ruled that, unless the races are permitted to mingle in the classrooms of public schools, there is no equality of education itself. The argument was made by the court that there has to be a mingling of minds and that to separate students by race is to create a sense of inferiority.

It is this combination of social and educational factors which has really caused the bitterest controversy, as well as given rise to expressions on the part of many lawyers and jurists that the Constitution was properly interpreted years ago when it was held that the states, and not the federal government, should decide who shall or shall not be admitted to a particular public school.

IN A SENSE, Dr. Ralph Bunche, prominent Negro who is a United Nations official, recognized the other day the legality of private discrimination. While conceding that a private club may exclude whom it pleases from membership, he went on to denounce as, "shocking in New York City" the refusal of the West Side Tennis Club to grant membership to himself or to his son. Dr. Bunche has every right to take his case to the court of public opinion but, followed to its logical conclusion, there can be no conformity by coercion.

If discrimination is to be abolished in every human relationship, it must come from the voluntary acts of individuals. This, to be sure, brings out deep-seated differences of viewpoint about social mixing and its effects in such controversial fields as intermarriage. It is quite possible that the Supreme Court of the United States someday may strike down as invalid those state laws which today prohibit intermarriage between the races. But the right to discriminate in picking one's mate will hardly be taken away by law, inasmuch as the Constitution, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, guarantees "freedom of association."

Letter To The Editor

Would you grant me a small space in your newspaper to emphasize a matter that has already appeared there, but has not received the attention it deserves; I refer to the meeting of our Board of Education on Monday, June 15.

At that meeting three gentlemen were present (Negroes) and two of them expressed to the board their desire that their daughters, who are qualified teachers and have already taught elsewhere, may put in their application here and have some assurance that they would receive favorable consideration.

One of these two ladies is a native of East Liverpool, passed through our schools and then qualified as a teacher, and put in her application here, but received no encouragement or hope for success. The father of our native applicant also had a personal interview with our superintendent, or some member of his staff, with discouraging results also, so the young lady was compelled to apply elsewhere, against her own and her families desire; it is good to know that she had better success away, and can add experience to her former qualifications.

East Liverpool has been good to me and good for me during the 45 years that I have lived here and I have a great desire for the success and progress of our city, but the attitude displayed at that board meeting by its members is not good for anyone, in my opinion.

Within the past month, I read in our Review extracts from a speech made by Vice President Nixon, in which he deplored the embarrassment he encountered when traveling as an ambassador of goodwill to Africa and the Near East; speaking of the United States help and aid to countries in need, and at the same time called on to answer, Then why do you refuse to our native Negroes the full rights of citizenship and deny and repress to them the opportunities of progress and advancement.

During the past year or two the citizens of East Liverpool have been gratified by the number of letters of commendation to our Police Department printed in The Review, and emphasized last week by Martin Silverman of Harvey Ave. Yes sir, it is "Hats off for a job well done". And may I congratulate them, too, on another point of their progress, the appointment of Negroes now in uniform on the force.

Wake up, our educators! The time is ripe. This is 1959; back of us are almost two thousand years of Christian civilization and progress. Quit your prejudice and open the doors of opportunity to all, White and Negro. Let us make it that neither our vice president, Mr. Nixon, or any other citizen of the U. S. A., may have this reproach put upon them.

Kin Of Wellsville Man Dies In Alliance Crash

Frank Lowry, 75, of near Alliance, brother of George Lowry of Wellsville, was one of two killed in a two-car collision Friday night at the intersection of Buck Rd. and the Freeburg-Alliance Rd., southwest of Alliance.

Also killed was Mrs. Edith G. Shutts, 39, of Louisville. The State Highway Patrol said the woman drove through a stop sign, hitting a sports car driven by William G. Parks, 36, of Alliance, son-in-law of Mr. Lowry.

The woman's car came to a halt atop the sports car, pinning her and Mr. Lowry in the wreckage. He was a passenger in the sports car.

Mr. Lowry's body is at the Walton-Schrader Funeral Home in Alliance.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Laughlin's Kin

Services and burial were held here Thursday at 1:30 p. m. for Mrs. Etta Laughlin Moore, a former East Liverpool resident, who was found dead at her home in Albany, N. Y., Tuesday.

Mrs. Moore was born in East Liverpool, a daughter of the late Shakespeare and Eliza Elizabeth Laughlin. Her father and his brother, Homer Laughlin, were the founders of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

She spent her youth here, moving away about 60 years ago. She had lived in Albany 40 years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church when she lived here. Her husband, Joseph G. Moore, died in 1942.

The Rev. Robert Tanguy of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church conducted the rites at the Martin Funeral Home. Burial was in Riverview Cemetery.

The administrator of the estate forbade any public notice of the death until after burial.

Charles C. Stewart

Charles C. Stewart, a retired city employe, died of a heart attack at his home near Salineville Friday afternoon at 3:30. He was 67.

Mr. Stewart was a maintenance man, mechanic, blacksmith and truck driver for the street department, retiring in 1951. He worked as a fulltime blacksmith before starting work with the city in the early 1930's. He formerly resided in Beechwood, moving to a farm near Salineville about six years ago. Mr. Stewart was born in Chester, a son of the late John A. and Joanna Swearingen Stewart.

Surviving are three step-daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Eaton of East Liverpool, Mrs. Jane Mayer of Cleveland and Mrs. Zellma Arter of Lisbon; three brothers, Oscar Stewart of Chester R. D. 1, Ellwood Stewart of Georgetown and Lorenzo Stewart of Tiffin, and four sisters, Mrs. Estella Baker of Chester, Mrs. Jeanette Pinney of Georgetown, Mrs. Laura Whipple of Rochester and Mrs. Viola Tice of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by Dr. D. Finley Wood of the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in Union Cemetery at Pughtown.

Friends may call at the funeral home anytime Sunday.

William Cornell

William L. Cornell, 2129 Hazel Alley, died suddenly of natural causes while at work at 4:10 a. m. Friday at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He was 33.

Mr. Cornell was born Oct. 3, 1925, in East Liverpool, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell. He had been employed for 14 years as a bevel grinder in the agricultural department. He served in Europe during World War II and was a member of USW Local 1212.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Virginia B. Cornell; three sons, William C. Cornell, Donald L. Cornell and George S. Cornell, all at home; two daughters, Nancy Sue Cornell and Darlene Dorothy Cornell, at home; two brothers, Kenneth Cornell and John Cornell Jr., both of East Liverpool, and four sisters, Mrs. Frances M. McFarland, Mrs. Dorothy Hardwick and Mrs. Letha Hopkins, all of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Margaret Icenhower of Alexandria, Ohio.

Services will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the Cannon Funeral Home in Midland by the Rev. David H. Gill, pastor of the Industry Evangelical United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call after 7:30 tonight at the funeral home.

Herbert Farley

Herbert E. Farley, formerly of the Lisbon area, died Friday at his home in Hollywood, Calif., as a result of a heart attack suffered in June. He was 52.

Mr. Farley was born Jan. 8, 1907, in Cleveland, a son of Edward and Evelyn Budd Farley. He resided in the Lisbon area before moving to California about three years ago. During service in World War II, he was held as a prisoner of war. In 1945, he married the former Mary B. Gorshuck.

In addition to his widow, he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Beatrice White, Mrs. Wilma Storey and Mrs. Dorothy Caves, and a brother, Norman J. Farley, all of Cleveland.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home in Lisbon by the Rev. Tom Hammerton, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Lisbon Cemetery.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Laughlin's Kin

Services and burial were held here Thursday at 1:30 p. m. for Mrs. Etta Laughlin Moore, a former East Liverpool resident, who was found dead at her home in Albany, N. Y., Tuesday.

Mrs. Moore was born in East Liverpool, a daughter of the late Shakespeare and Eliza Elizabeth Laughlin. Her father and his brother, Homer Laughlin, were the founders of the Homer Laughlin China Co.

She spent her youth here, moving away about 60 years ago. She had lived in Albany 40 years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church when she lived here. Her husband, Joseph G. Moore, died in 1942.

The Rev. Robert Tanguy of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church conducted the rites at the Martin Funeral Home. Burial was in Riverview Cemetery.

The administrator of the estate forbade any public notice of the death until after burial.

Charles C. Stewart

Charles C. Stewart, a retired city employe, died of a heart attack at his home near Salineville Friday afternoon at 3:30. He was 67.

Mr. Stewart was a maintenance man, mechanic, blacksmith and truck driver for the street department, retiring in 1951. He worked as a fulltime blacksmith before starting work with the city in the early 1930's. He formerly resided in Beechwood, moving to a farm near Salineville about six years ago. Mr. Stewart was born in Chester, a son of the late John A. and Joanna Swearingen Stewart.

Surviving are three step-daughters, Mrs. Kenneth Eaton of East Liverpool, Mrs. Jane Mayer of Cleveland and Mrs. Zellma Arter of Lisbon; three brothers, Oscar Stewart of Chester R. D. 1, Ellwood Stewart of Georgetown and Lorenzo Stewart of Tiffin, and four sisters, Mrs. Estella Baker of Chester, Mrs. Jeanette Pinney of Georgetown, Mrs. Laura Whipple of Rochester and Mrs. Viola Tice of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by Dr. D. Finley Wood of the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in Union Cemetery at Pughtown.

Friends may call at the funeral home anytime Sunday.

William Cornell

William L. Cornell, 2129 Hazel Alley, died suddenly of natural causes while at work at 4:10 a. m. Friday at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He was 33.

Mr. Cornell was born Oct. 3, 1925, in East Liverpool, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell. He had been employed for 14 years as a bevel grinder in the agricultural department. He served in Europe during World War II and was a member of USW Local 1212.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Virginia B. Cornell; three sons, William C. Cornell, Donald L. Cornell and George S. Cornell, all at home; two daughters, Nancy Sue Cornell and Darlene Dorothy Cornell, at home; two brothers, Kenneth Cornell and John Cornell Jr., both of East Liverpool, and four sisters, Mrs. Frances M. McFarland, Mrs. Dorothy Hardwick and Mrs. Letha Hopkins, all of East Liverpool, and Mrs. Margaret Icenhower of Alexandria, Ohio.

Services will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the Cannon Funeral Home in Midland by the Rev. David H. Gill, pastor of the Industry Evangelical United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call after 7:30 tonight at the funeral home.

Herbert Farley

Herbert E. Farley, formerly of the Lisbon area, died Friday at his home in Hollywood, Calif., as a result of a heart attack suffered in June. He was 52.

Mr. Farley was born Jan. 8, 1907, in Cleveland, a son of Edward and Evelyn Budd Farley. He resided in the Lisbon area before moving to California about three years ago. During service in World War II, he was held as a prisoner of war. In 1945, he married the former Mary B. Gorshuck.

In addition to his widow, he leaves three sisters, Mrs. Beatrice White, Mrs. Wilma Storey and Mrs. Dorothy Caves, and a brother, Norman J. Farley, all of Cleveland.

Services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home in Lisbon by the Rev. Tom Hammerton, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Burial will be in the Lisbon Cemetery.

Canadian Due To Speak For Camp Meeting

The Rev. S. G. Caswell of Ottawa, Canada, will speak at four "Missionary Days" programs Sunday through Wednesday as a highlight of the annual 10-day camp meeting of the Rochester District of the Free Methodist Church, which was launched Thursday night at the Anderson Blvd. grounds.

The series of special services will get under way with a missionary rally at 3 p. m. Sunday. The series is in charge of the Women's Missionary Society of the 22 participating churches in the district.

Rev. Caswell was a member of the Holiness Movement Church of Canada, which recently merged with the Free Methodist Church of North America.

He has served many years iin Canada, Ireland and China. Communist uprisings twice forced him to leave the mission field in China. The mission area in which he was serving was bombed by the Japanese in 1939. His brother and wife, also serving in that area, lost their lives in the bombing.

The Sunday schedule for the camp meeting is: Holiness prayer meeting, 7 a. m.; Sunday School, 9:15, with H. E. Diddle as superintendent; "love feast," 10:30; preaching by Rev. L. A. Robart, chief evangelist, 11 a. m.; missionary rally, 3 p. m.; ring meeting, 6:30, and evangelistic rally, 7:30.

Rev. Caswell will speak each afternoon at 1:30, appearing for the last time Wednesday. Mrs. Ralph Page, president of the District Women's Missionary Society, will be in charge of the camp's missionary program.

The camp meeting will continue through July 19.

Playhouse Goal Is To Train Workers In Religious Drama

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

STONY POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The Virgin Mary looked Japanese. Joseph spoke with a Portuguese accent. The Angel Gabriel was a dark, mustachioed East Indian.

It was opening night at the Barn Playhouse, a fledgling summer stock theater for strictly religious drama, sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The chief function of the playhouse is not to make money or develop actors but to train fraternal workers (formerly called missionaries) in handling religious drama programs overseas.

"There is a strong need for good religious drama to supplement preaching in the foreign field," says playhouse director, the Rev. Norman Gano, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in nearby West Haverstraw.

"Drama involves the audience in an action which is something a sermon cannot do. What better way is there to put across the Christian message than in a simple play written in the dramatic style peculiar to local culture?"

For this reason, plays produced by the Barn are foreign in origin and many of the actors are fraternal workers or students from such places as Holland, India, Japan, Brazil or the Philippines.

One of the plays, the last of the short season ending July 24, is from Thailand, an interpretation of Genesis originally written in the Thai language. Another is Dutch.

The Rev. Mr. Gano, who directs and acts in some of the plays, is a former professional actor who appeared with the Hedgerow Theater in Philadelphia and, for a time, in off-Broadway's "Three Penny Opera."

He sees nothing strange in being an actor-minister.

"After all," he says "Church and drama are the same in purpose. Each seeks to lift man, to help him find a better way. The theater is a spiritual medium. Everyone who's been in the theater knows that."

The unpaid actors who take part in Barn productions really learn the theater from the ground up. In addition to moving scenery and sweeping floors some even helped transform the century-old barn into a playhouse.

A good deal of the theater equipment is either second hand or purchased new at cut-rate prices. The heavy blue side curtains served on Broadway at one time and were cut down to fit. "It's good practice for setting up overseas drama programs," says the Rev. Mr. Gano. "We had to make do with what we've got. We built a lot of the equipment ourselves."

Opening night drew an audience of about 75 people, a pleasant surprise for the Rev. Mr. Gano—I'd be happy if we have 20 or 25 at each performance." There was no admission but most left a donation on the way out.

WILL YOU HELP SPONSOR 25 DESERVING KIDDIES TO SUMMER CAMP?

Eight local youngsters have just returned from Music Camp this week-end, which was conducted at Fort Herrick at Mentor, our Northeast Ohio Divisional Camp.

It has been found that Salvation Army music and associated experiences learned in childhood never fade from memory. A class of beginners meet regularly each week at the Citadel for instruction, and new recruits are added as the group progresses and moves on to the Senior Band.

Plans are now being made for 25 deserving youngsters to attend the Fresh Air Camp at Fort Herrick, from August 13th-22nd.

Approximately $600.00 is needed to provide this healthful and wholesome endeavor. The cost is $25.00 for each youngster.

Annually various organizations and individuals cooperate with us in this project, and we sincerely trust that there will be sufficient backing this year, to assure the kiddies this great opportunity.

In addition, we are also sponsoring Fresh Air Outings for Mothers and Children each week in Thompson Park.

And so — together with you — our faithful friends, we are doing our utmost to —"Make Somebody Happy Today".

WHERE PERFECTION IS A TRADITION

Only a Memorial expresses Personal Sentiment

A grave-marker is just that . . . a mark to separate one plot of cemetery land from the others. Where only such markers are placed, all places and all records become identical, as though all lives were the same. But in cemeteries where fine memorials are erected, there are the separate stories of lives, the personal symbols of memory, the distinct and different histories of people and families and names. The cemetery lot with an expressive Memorial on it is a place of honor, a shrine of memories, a proud place . . . for all time.

Open weekdays until 5 o'clock.
Evenings and Sunday by appointment.

Playhouse Goal Is To Train Workers In Religious Drama

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

STONY POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The Virgin Mary looked Japanese. Joseph spoke with a Portuguese accent. The Angel Gabriel was a dark, mustachioed East Indian.

It was opening night at the Barn Playhouse, a fledgling summer stock theater for strictly religious drama, sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The chief function of the playhouse is not to make money or develop actors but to train fraternal workers (formerly called missionaries) in handling religious drama programs overseas.

"There is a strong need for good religious drama to supplement preaching in the foreign field," says playhouse director, the Rev. Norman Gano, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in nearby West Haverstraw.

"Drama involves the audience in an action which is something a sermon cannot do. What better way is there to put across the Christian message than in a simple play written in the dramatic style peculiar to local culture?"

For this reason, plays produced by the Barn are foreign in origin and many of the actors are fraternal workers or students from such places as Holland, India, Japan, Brazil or the Philippines.

One of the plays, the last of the short season ending July 24, is from Thailand, an interpretation of Genesis originally written in the Thai language. Another is Dutch.

The Rev. Mr. Gano, who directs and acts in some of the plays, is a former professional actor who appeared with the Hedgerow Theater in Philadelphia and, for a time, in off-Broadway's "Three Penny Opera."

He sees nothing strange in being an actor-minister.

"After all," he says "Church and drama are the same in purpose. Each seeks to lift man, to help him find a better way. The theater is a spiritual medium. Everyone who's been in the theater knows that."

The unpaid actors who take part in Barn productions really learn the theater from the ground up. In addition to moving scenery and sweeping floors some even helped transform the century-old barn into a playhouse.

A good deal of the theater equipment is either second hand or purchased new at cut-rate prices. The heavy blue side curtains served on Broadway at one time and were cut down to fit. "It's good practice for setting up overseas drama programs," says the Rev. Mr. Gano. "We had to make do with what we've got. We built a lot of the equipment ourselves."

Opening night drew an audience of about 75 people, a pleasant surprise for the Rev. Mr. Gano—I'd be happy if we have 20 or 25 at each performance." There was no admission but most left a donation on the way out.

WILL YOU HELP SPONSOR 25 DESERVING KIDDIES TO SUMMER CAMP?

Eight local youngsters have just returned from Music Camp this week-end, which was conducted at Fort Herrick at Mentor, our Northeast Ohio Divisional Camp.

It has been found that Salvation Army music and associated experiences learned in childhood never fade from memory. A class of beginners meet regularly each week at the Citadel for instruction, and new recruits are added as the group progresses and moves on to the Senior Band.

Plans are now being made for 25 deserving youngsters to attend the Fresh Air Camp at Fort Herrick, from August 13th-22nd.

Approximately $600.00 is needed to provide this healthful and wholesome endeavor. The cost is $25.00 for each youngster.

Annually various organizations and individuals cooperate with us in this project, and we sincerely trust that there will be sufficient backing this year, to assure the kiddies this great opportunity.

In addition, we are also sponsoring Fresh Air Outings for Mothers and Children each week in Thompson Park.

And so — together with you — our faithful friends, we are doing our utmost to —"Make Somebody Happy Today".

WHERE PERFECTION IS A TRADITION

Only a Memorial expresses Personal Sentiment

A grave-marker is just that . . . a mark to separate one plot of cemetery land from the others. Where only such markers are placed, all places and all records become identical, as though all lives were the same. But in cemeteries where fine memorials are erected, there are the separate stories of lives, the personal symbols of memory, the distinct and different histories of people and families and names. The cemetery lot with an expressive Memorial on it is a place of honor, a shrine of memories, a proud place . . . for all time.

Open weekdays until 5 o'clock.
Evenings and Sunday by appointment.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

Do You Like Your Job?

Do you like your job? I've asked many people this and notice a significant fact. Those who give an emphatic and enthusiastic "Yes!" are invariably doing their job well. But those who hesitate, equivocate or come out with a flat "No" seem to range all the way from fair, to so-so, to poor in job performance. Those who get pleasure from their jobs are doing more than just putting in time. They feel they are doing something important and making a constructive contribution.

TAKE FOR example Helen A. Lysaght, an international representative of Eastern Air Lines. Her job at Idlewild Airport is to do all she can for everybody. Idlewild is a huge place and can be somewhat confusing and bewildering to the ordinary traveler — what with its distances, crowds and bustle at peak seasons.

Miss Lysaght enthusiastically told me of the fun she has in helping people, guiding them and generally making their trips a pleasure. She told of two elderly ladies whom she 'spotted.' "You just come along with me. I'll take care of you," she assured them. And when she got them on their plane, "Were they happy! And helping them made me happy, too. I really love this job!" she declared. She bubbled over with zest and enthusiasm, and it is mighty apparent that she enjoys her work and also obvious that she does her job well.

Sadly enough, many people look upon their jobs as 'just a job.' They've got to work to buy the groceries and five o'clock hardly comes around before they are on their way like a shot. Of course, that's all the time they were hired for, but it's something to conjure up. They probably will be working with the same minimum interest in their jobs, nine-to-five and out, 20 years from now.

But it is those who set their own working time, who become leaders later on, the presidents and vice presidents. They are the people who give only secondary thought to working time limitations. They like what they are doing so much that they just keep working away at it of their own accord and desire and have a grand time doing so.

A MAN LIKE this is Bill Boal. He started working for Guideposts, the inspirational, interfaith magazine, when it was tough - and - go whether Guideposts would survive. He didn't have to stay past quitting time, nor did he have to work so hard; but he did. He liked his job. And he believed in the objectives of the publication, namely, to help people meet life's problems successfully. No wonder he became Business Manager and the magazine developed a wide coverage.

Of course, it may be you don't want to become a manager or executive. It means a lot of work and responsibility, and that may not appeal to you. Sure — but if you watch a top man working, more than likely you'll see a fellow who really enjoys meeting and solving problems and who gets a big thrill out of creating something. Actually that is one of the greatest pleasures in life, solving problems and creating something.

BUT, YOU may ask, how can you like a job when you're on a routine shift, say, in a big plant? Where you're only a cog and a small one at that. Or what if you are one of the thousands in a huge office building, pouring in in the morning and out in the afternoon?

Well, the answer is that you have to take the job that you do and relate it to the whole process of which it is a vital part. For example, the man who works on an airplane wing can see that wing strong and sturdy carrying a hundred people safely through a storm. How well he does his seemingly small function may determine safe landings for a big airplane made by him and his fellow workers. His sense of responsibility and importance to the success of the whole operation enhances his part in it.

Our modern complicated economy depends upon the services of vast numbers of people and every process, however humble, must be done capably if the whole thing is to go well. No one person who does his job well is ever unimportant. The more people there are who like their jobs and do them well, the happier everyone is.

So start liking your job and see how much better it likes you.

Child in the SUN

The sight of a child playing in the sun — a reflection of God's goodness!

At such moments, children seem like echoes of God's love. In their own boundless joy, with their unquenchable enthusiasm, they point the way to truth, love, faith and beauty.

It is a way all of us can follow. By turning to God with a child's simplicity, by seeking Him through the Church, we can emerge from life's shadows and stand again in the full light of eternal truth.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

Do You Like Your Job?

Do you like your job? I've asked many people this and notice a significant fact. Those who give an emphatic and enthusiastic "Yes!" are invariably doing their job well. But those who hesitate, equivocate or come out with a flat "No" seem to range all the way from fair, to so-so, to poor in job performance. Those who get pleasure from their jobs are doing more than just putting in time. They feel they are doing something important and making a constructive contribution.

TAKE FOR example Helen A. Lysaght, an international representative of Eastern Air Lines. Her job at Idlewild Airport is to do all she can for everybody. Idlewild is a huge place and can be somewhat confusing and bewildering to the ordinary traveler — what with its distances, crowds and bustle at peak seasons.

Miss Lysaght enthusiastically told me of the fun she has in helping people, guiding them and generally making their trips a pleasure. She told of two elderly ladies whom she 'spotted.' "You just come along with me. I'll take care of you," she assured them. And when she got them on their plane, "Were they happy! And helping them made me happy, too. I really love this job!" she declared. She bubbled over with zest and enthusiasm, and it is mighty apparent that she enjoys her work and also obvious that she does her job well.

Sadly enough, many people look upon their jobs as 'just a job.' They've got to work to buy the groceries and five o'clock hardly comes around before they are on their way like a shot. Of course, that's all the time they were hired for, but it's something to conjure up. They probably will be working with the same minimum interest in their jobs, nine-to-five and out, 20 years from now.

But it is those who set their own working time, who become leaders later on, the presidents and vice presidents. They are the people who give only secondary thought to working time limitations. They like what they are doing so much that they just keep working away at it of their own accord and desire and have a grand time doing so.

A MAN LIKE this is Bill Boal. He started working for Guideposts, the inspirational, interfaith magazine, when it was tough - and - go whether Guideposts would survive. He didn't have to stay past quitting time, nor did he have to work so hard; but he did. He liked his job. And he believed in the objectives of the publication, namely, to help people meet life's problems successfully. No wonder he became Business Manager and the magazine developed a wide coverage.

Of course, it may be you don't want to become a manager or executive. It means a lot of work and responsibility, and that may not appeal to you. Sure — but if you watch a top man working, more than likely you'll see a fellow who really enjoys meeting and solving problems and who gets a big thrill out of creating something. Actually that is one of the greatest pleasures in life, solving problems and creating something.

BUT, YOU may ask, how can you like a job when you're on a routine shift, say, in a big plant? Where you're only a cog and a small one at that. Or what if you are one of the thousands in a huge office building, pouring in in the morning and out in the afternoon?

Well, the answer is that you have to take the job that you do and relate it to the whole process of which it is a vital part. For example, the man who works on an airplane wing can see that wing strong and sturdy carrying a hundred people safely through a storm. How well he does his seemingly small function may determine safe landings for a big airplane made by him and his fellow workers. His sense of responsibility and importance to the success of the whole operation enhances his part in it.

Our modern complicated economy depends upon the services of vast numbers of people and every process, however humble, must be done capably if the whole thing is to go well. No one person who does his job well is ever unimportant. The more people there are who like their jobs and do them well, the happier everyone is.

So start liking your job and see how much better it likes you.

Child in the SUN

The sight of a child playing in the sun — a reflection of God's goodness!

At such moments, children seem like echoes of God's love. In their own boundless joy, with their unquenchable enthusiasm, they point the way to truth, love, faith and beauty.

It is a way all of us can follow. By turning to God with a child's simplicity, by seeking Him through the Church, we can emerge from life's shadows and stand again in the full light of eternal truth.

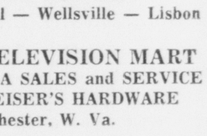

Find your way to church . . . this Sunday.

Copyright 1959, Keister Adv. Service, Strasburg, Pa.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Four Are Killed In Two Separate Traffic Mishaps

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—Four persons—three in one Detroit family—were killed Friday in two separate traffic accidents near here.

A car-truck collision claimed the lives of George Sebulsky, 34, his wife, Elizabeth, 33, and their son, Michael, 11 months, at an intersection two miles south of here.

John W. Blair, 23, of nearby Edon, was fatally injured when his car was struck by a Wabash Railroad freight train at a flasher-less crossing on a Williams County road 12 miles west of here. He was alone in the car.

The Detroit victims were riding in a car that apparently halted for a stop sign and flasher lights on Ohio 15, then neglected to give the right-of-way to a truck on U. S. 6, Deputy Sheriff Don Tippie reported. The truck hit the car almost broadside.

Mrs. Sebulsky, believed to have been driving, was thrown from the auto, which was pushed 185 feet from the intersection.

Ricky Ice, 10, son of Leslie Ice, 1909 Pennsylvania Ave., lacerated his right knee in a fall while playing yesterday afternoon.

Debbie Skeens, 6, daughter of William Skeens of Wellsville R. D. 1, lacerated her left leg in a fall at home yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Beulah Dustman, 54, of 501 16th St., Wellsville, was treated early this morning for a possible fracture of the left wrist and a laceration of the forehead suffered in a fall at home.

Soldier Given Honor For Aid In Forest Fire

Pfc. Charles R. Saltsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saltsman of Water St., Salineville, has received the Army's "Badget of Courage" for his part in helping fight a 3,700-acre forest fire in Alaska.

Pvt. Saltsman, serving with the 23rd Infantry in Anchorage, was cited "for service above and beyond the call of duty." He also received a sharpshooter badge for qualifying with the M1 rifle. The awards were made on July 3.

Pvt. Saltsman entered the service Oct. 4, 1958, and received basic training at Ft. Benning, Ga. He was sent to Alaska Dec. 20.

Fifty-one attended the reunion of the family of Nellie Madison Wednesday at Lake Marwin in East Liverpool.

A picnic dinner and games were featured. Guests attended from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Toronto, Salineville and Los Angeles.

Miss Ruth McNichol of Market St., an employe in the clerk of courts office at Lisbon, left Wednesday by plane for Miami, en route for a vacation at Nassau in the Bahamas.

Four Are Killed In Two Separate Traffic Mishaps

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—Four persons—three in one Detroit family—were killed Friday in two separate traffic accidents near here.

A car-truck collision claimed the lives of George Sebulsky, 34, his wife, Elizabeth, 33, and their son, Michael, 11 months, at an intersection two miles south of here.

John W. Blair, 23, of nearby Edon, was fatally injured when his car was struck by a Wabash Railroad freight train at a flasher-less crossing on a Williams County road 12 miles west of here. He was alone in the car.

The Detroit victims were riding in a car that apparently halted for a stop sign and flasher lights on Ohio 15, then neglected to give the right-of-way to a truck on U. S. 6, Deputy Sheriff Don Tippie reported. The truck hit the car almost broadside.

Mrs. Sebulsky, believed to have been driving, was thrown from the auto, which was pushed 185 feet from the intersection.

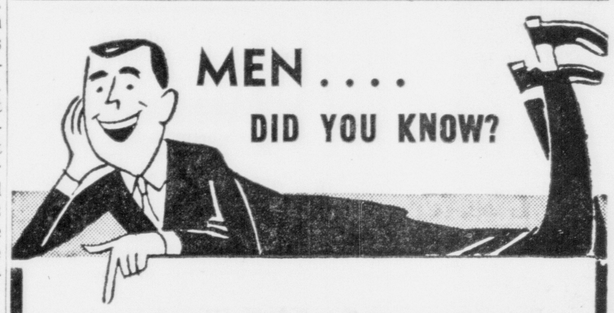

County Bar Association Sets Picnic Wednesday

About 75 are expected to attend the annual picnic of the Columbiana County Bar Association Wednesday at the Country Club.

Atty. Richard J. Clark, chairman, said the program will include movies to be screened by Atty. William H. Vodrey Jr. of other association picnics held in the last 20 or 30 years at Beaver Kettle Farm.

Members and guests will open the day with golfing at noon. Dinner will be served at 7 p. m.

Freak Storms Hit South England, Leave Fire, Flood

LONDON (AP)—Freak storms lashed wide areas of southern England today leaving a trail of fires and floods and plunging historic Windsor Castle into darkness.

Offshore, dense fog blanketed British coastal waters and there were two collisions involving four ships.

From midnight until dawn, storms ranged over hundreds of square miles hitting dozens of coastal resorts and veering northward toward London.

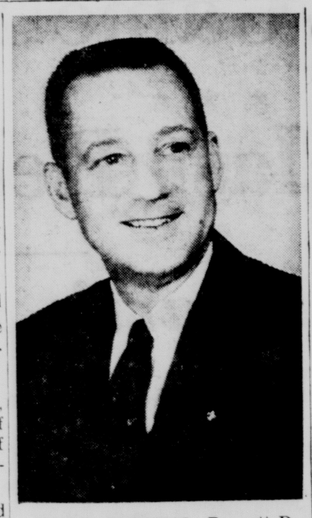

Floods spread rail lines and stopped trains. Houses, aircraft on the ground and a huge oil refinery were struck by lightning.

In the fog-blanketed English Channel the 680-ton British coastal vessel St. Ronan sank in a collision and three crewmen were missing.

Lightning set a big British airliner afire at London airport. There were no passengers aboard and no one was reported injured.

State Gets $27,111

LISBON — The state government received a total of $27,111 in the fiscal year ending June 30 as its 45 per cent share of State Highway Patrol fines collected in Columbiana County, according to a report issued today at Columbus by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The state also received $987 from the county, representing 50 per cent of the fines levied for liquor law violations.

SCOUT OFFICIAL. Bennett D. Taylor, formerly of Springfield, is the new executive of the Columbiana County Boy Scout Council, with headquarters in Lisbon. Appointed in mid-June, he will begin his duties officially next Wednesday. He will succeed Robert Beck, who resigned June 1. Taylor formerly was assistant executive of the Tecumseh Council at Springfield.

Given 10-20 Years

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ralph (Rocky) Roberts was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for a 10-20 year term Friday after a jury convicted him of a $14,000 armed robbery in suburban Euclid last December. The Zanesville native told Common Pleas Judge Joseph H. Silbert "since I'm innocent of this crime, I'm only sorry you couldn't give me the death sentence."

Cincinnati Sued For $250,000 In Slaying Of Youth

CINCINNATI (AP)—Abe Savage of Cincinnati, whose son was shot and killed during a police chase last year, has sued the city for $250,000 damages.

The suit filed Friday asserts Abe Savage Jr., 14, was shot although "he had not nor was he in the process of committing a felony."

Police said young Savage was shot March 31, 1958, when he ignored orders to halt his car and instead drove through a barricade.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People later charged police discrimination against Negroes. But a city probe gave the department a clear report.

Murder charges against three officers involved in the chase of young Savage were dismissed in police court. They were not named in the suit.

Ex-Sen. Blakley Reported Critical With Heart Attack

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Former U.S. Senator William A. Blakley, 60, is in critical condition after suffering a massive heart attack. Blakley became ill Friday.

Dr. R. B. McBride, who described his condition as "pretty critical," said Blakley had suffered "a massive coronary occlusion similar to the attacks which struck President Eisenhower and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson."

Blakley, a multimillionaire financier, rancher, oilman and philanthropist, was appointed to the Senate by Gov. Allan Shivers in 1957 to fill an interim term caused by the resignation of Price Daniel. He did not run in the special election won by Ralph Yarborough, but unsuccessfully opposed Yarborough for the Democratic nomination for the Senate in 1958.

Newspaper Figure Dies

EAST HANOVER, Mass. (AP) — John Dutton Bogart, 80, one-time general manager of all William Randolph Hearst properties, died Friday in a nursing home. Bogart was Hearst general manager from 1919 to 1922 and was editor and publisher of the Brockton, Mass., Times from 1922 until it merged with the Brockton Enterprise in 1934.

Aiello's Hearing Set

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A hearing has been set for July 24 for Joseph Jasper (Fats) Aiello, 44, Youngstown gambling figure accused of violating Ohio banking laws in connection with the cashing of a bad check for $28,500. He pleaded innocent Friday before Judge Forrest J. Cavalier and posted bond of $25,000.

Steven McQueen, of television's "Wanted Dead or Alive," helped battle flames that crept within a few hundred yards of his home.

Other homes in the area are owned by Ben Alexander, sidekick to Sgt. Friday on "Dragnet"; and actors Scott Brady, Dan O'Herlihy, Dan Duryea, Charles Coburn, TV master of ceremonies Jack Bailey, John Smith of TV's "77 Sunset Strip," and Kam Tong, the houseboy on "Have Gun, Will Travel."

None of the celebrities homes were reported damaged.

Liquor Store To Open

SALINEVILLE — The village will get a state liquor agency when A. Monty Muntean opens a store Thursday at 77 E. Main St. He will also handle beer and wine to carry out. Muntean formerly operated Monty's Ranch at Kensington. Salineville residents previously had to go to East Liverpool, Wellsville or Lisbon to secure liquor from a state store.

Grange Gives Degrees

LISBON — Ninety members and guests attended a meeting of West Point Grange Friday night. William Martin, master, presided. First and second degrees were exemplified by the West Point and Butler Grange degree teams. Remarks were made by visiting masters from Butler, Perry, Calcutta, Unity and Midway Granges. The next meeting will be July 24.

Canfield Man Fined

LISBON — Robert H. Pierson, 35, of Canfield was fined $5 and costs Friday by County Judge James L. MacDonald after he pleaded guilty to failing to stop within the assured clear distance. Judge MacDonald suspended the fine. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol after he was involved in an accident.

Freshman And Senior Just Can't Be Cowed

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Freshman Wayne Perkins and senior Joseph Almburg refused to be cowed in their determmation to be the first students to sleep on Rockford College's new campus.

They borrowed a tent and sleeping bags to spend a night in the field where college dormitories will be erected this fall.

"It was wonderful," Almburg says. "But once during the night we had to hold off a herd of cows by flashing lights at them."

License Law Eyed

IRONDALE — Village Council will meet July 20 at 7:30 p. m. to consider adoption of an ordinance requiring a $10 annual fee for holders of "juke box" licenses, Mayor Quenton Henderson said. Four business places would be affected by the ordinance.

Council Sets Meeting

LISBON — Purchase of a 10-ton roller and possible discussion of a raise in electric rates requested by the Ohio Edison Co. are the main items awaiting the regular meeting of Village Council Monday night.

U.S. Taxpayers Won't Celebrate 50th Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sunday is an anniversary that U.S. taxpayers will not celebrate.

Fifty years ago—on July 12, 1909 — Congress passed along to the states a proposed constitutional amendment empowering the federal government to levy income taxes.

The amendment—the 16th—was declared ratified Feb. 25, 1913. It was approved by legislatures of 42 of the 48 states, approval by three fourths of the states being necessary.

The United States had had an income tax during the Civil War period. It was abandoned in 1872, and a subsequent effort to tax incomes was ruled unconstitutional in 1895.

$10,000 Theft Report

CLEVELAND (AP) — An estimated $10,000 was reported stolen Friday from the Chagrin Falls Twp. home of Robert E. (Bob) Gaudio, former Cleveland Browns' and Ohio State football player. Gaudio is a partner in the National Construction Co. with his father and two brothers.

Tigers, Senators And Red Sox Win

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cal McLish and Minnie Minoso, a couple of players who have had their ups and downs — perhaps more of the latter than the former—over the years could take the bows today for saving Cleveland's American League lead.

McLish, a veteran Oklahoman who broke into major league baseball as a Dodger whiz kid some 15 years ago, recorded his 11th victory of the season against three defeats Friday night as the Indians turned back the second-place White Sox 8-4 in a rain delayed game and increased their lead to two games. Minoso was the leader in two rallies that ruined Early Wynn's hopes.

The Washington Senators, held homerless and shut out twice by Baltimore on Thursday, unleashed their power again Friday night, hit four homers and downed the Orioles 7-6. The Boston Red Sox, with Bobby Avila and Ted Williams again leading the way, knocked off the Yankees a second time 8-5.

The Detroit Tigers, also double shutout victims on Thursday, ended a six-game losing streak when Jim Bunning pitched them to a 5-2 decision over the Kansas City Athletics.

The San Francisco Giants, who took the National League lead Thursday, increased their margin to a full game with an 11-inning, 8-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in a game that saw eight pitchers give up 24 hits. Runner-up Los Angeles and third-place Milwaukee were rained out in the second game of their series.

Dick Stuart's 17th homer of the season, with two aboard in the 11th inning, capped a four-run splurge that brought the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs. The St. Louis Cardinals, scoring eight in the sixth inning, beat Philadelphia 9-7.

Minoso, Tito Francona and Rocky Colavito were the Indian hitters who handed Early Wynn his sixth defeat against 12 victories. Minnie hit two singles and scored twice, Francona had four hits and drove in three runs and Colavito knocked in three runs with three hits.

Washington blasted starter John Fisher early and hard, gaining a 7-2 lead on homers by Ken Aspromente, Bob Allison, Harmon Killebrew and Roy Sievers. But the Orioles got to Camilo Pascual and Tex Clevenger for four runs in the eighth before Billy Consol snuffed out the rally with a leaping one-hand catch of Albie Pearson's liner.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel took a chance on starting Whitey Ford in Boston's Fenway Park, a trouble spot for southpaws. Ford found the trouble in the fourth inning when Avila and Williams contributed singles and the Yanks contributed three errors to a five-run Boston outburst. The Yanks came back to make it 5-4, but the Sox got three more runs on Marty Keoghs pinch double, singles by Avila and Jackie Jensen and a double by Williams.

Williams now has hit safely in 8 of his last 13 times at bat.

Bunning allowed the Athletics only seven hits, including Jerry Lumpe's two-run homer that tied the score at 2-2 in the fourth, but Ted Lepcio sewed up the victory with a two-run homer off reliever Bob Grim in the sixth.

Error Leads To Merchants 1-0 Triumph

A bobbled infield grounder that allowed the game's only run to cross the plate resulted in a 1-0 shutout victory by the Merchants over Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 in City Baseball League action Friday at Patterson Field.

Southpaw Bill Sutherin and right-hander John Zawoysky each hurled two-hit ball, but the cellar-dwelling Merchants plated a run in the fourth inning on the error to gain the victory.

The game was deadlocked in a scoreless tie until Dale Beagle slapped a double for the Merchants and later scored the winning run when Zawoysky's grounder went through shortstop Bobby McMahan.

The victory gave Coach John Andrason's Merchants a 3-7 season mark but still left the squad in fourth place in league standings.

Both Zawoysky of the Merchants and Sutherin of the West Virginia nine were very effective with their slants. Sutherin fanned five and Zawoysky eight and each issued few bases on balls.

Second baseman Hobbs collected both of Lawrenceville's hits in three trips to the plate. Besides Beagle's double for the Merchants, Andrason punched a single for the winners.

McMahan, the little infielder for the Lawrenceville entry, couldn't find the handle on two other occasions and was charged with three errors for the game.

Gordy Ingold, first sacker for the Legion squad, was removed from the game after being hit on the right leg by one of Zawoysky's pitches.

League-leading Cox Construction battles the Merchants today at 6 p. m. at Patterson Field. Second place Irondale will attempt to cut Cox's lead when they host the city entry Sunday afternoon at 3 at Irondale.

Stuart's 17th HR Wins For Pirates

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays is looking like the old, carefree Willie again and that may be bad news for the teams that are trying to topple the San Francisco Giants from their newly won place atop the National League standings.

Up to the All-Star game last week, Mays wasn't doing especially well—if you think hitting .311 isn't a good performance. Now he apparently is off on another of the late-season spurts that have marked his major league career.

It was Willie who produced the winning run Thursday as the Giants moved into first place ahead of Los Angeles and Milwaukee. It was Willie again Friday night providing the highspots of San Francisco's 11-inning, 8-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds that increased the Giant margin to a full game.

The second game of the important Los Angeles-Milwaukee series was rained out before the third inning was completed, dropping each team another half game behind the winning Giants.

The Pittsburgh Pirates came out on top in another 11-inning contest of homers and errors, beating the Chicago Cubs 7-6. The St. Louis Cardinals put together an eight-run rally in the sixth inning and then barely choked off a ninth-inning splurge by the Phillies to win 9-7.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians scored three runs in the ninth inning to wrap up an 8-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox and increase their lead over Chicago to two games.

Four Washington homers gave the Senators a 7-6 decision over the third-place Baltimore Orioles. The Boston Red Sox made it two straight over New York, 8-5, and Detroit ended its six-game losing streak by beating Kansas City 5-2.

Mays' 15th home run of the season was the climactic blow of San Francisco's victory over Cincinnati, but it wasn't his most important contribution. Earlier in the game he had hit two singles and had stolen three bases. And the Giants already had scored the tie-breaking run in the 11th before Willie connected.

Pittsburgh's 11 - inning game ended just about as sensationally. The Cubs had scored three runs in the first half of the inning to break a 3-3 deadlock. Then a fielder's choice and a walk put Roman Mejias and Bill Virdon on base. Hank Foiles singled Mejias home, then Dick Stuart blasted one of Don Elston's pitches over the center field wall for three more runs to win the game.

Back-to-back homers by Gene Oliver and Hal Smith highlighted the Cardinals' big inning against the Phillies. The Cards sent 13 men to the plate against three pitchers in that inning and made nine hits. It cost Jim Owens (4-8) his fifth straight defeat. But Vinegar Bend Mizell got into difficulties in the ninth and the Phils got three runs before Lindy McDaniel fanned Harry Anderson and Carl Sawatski to end it.

Jordan Defeats Moyer To Retain Welter Title

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Tough Don Jordan of Los Angeles defended his welterweight championship convincingly Friday night. He now looks toward middleweight Ray Robinson for his next bout.

Jordan, a punishing body puncher, rammed solid hooks into the ribs of 19-year-old Denny Moyer, and uppercuts to the face as he scored a unanimous 15-round decision over the young Portlander in a nationally televised bout.

There were no knockdowns.

Several times Moyer appeared about to go down, but each time called on some hidden resources to stay upright. He still was dancing gamely about at the end, flicking left jabs at Jordan.

For Jordan it was his 11th straight victory, his third since winning the title. It makes his record now 46-11.

Moyer, who had hoped to become the youngest champion on record in the welterweight division, suffered his first loss in 21 bouts.

Of the possible fight with Robinson, Jordan's co-manager, Don Nesseth, said, "We have been offered a lot of money to fight Robinson."

He said the offer came from an Eastern promoter, but disclosed no other details. Robinson recently was stripped of his middleweight title by the National Boxing Assn., but is recognized as champion in New York.

Two pre-fight incidents stirred interest in the bout.

One was Jordan's failure to make the 147-pound weight at his first weigh-in. He was 1½ pounds over the limit, and had to sweat it off by exercising. Ninety minutes later he qualified at an even 147, but there was speculation the process might have weakened him.

If he was weak, Moyer would hate to face him strong.

The other was discovery that Mickey Cohen was in town, and had paid a 1 a.m. visit Friday to Jordan. This brought police into sudden activity, for earlier Nesseth had said the underworld was trying to get control of Jordan—and the police suspect Cohen of having underworld connections.

Burbicks Win In Pony Loop

Burbicks came roaring from behind to splurge for seven runs in the late innings and whip Woodbines, 12-10, in Pony League play Friday night at Dopler Field.

The winners trailed for most of the game after the laundrymen had threatened to run the score into double digits in the first three innings.

Burbicks were aided by four Woodbine errors, but also came through with an avalanche of 12 hits in defeating McComas, the losing pitcher.

Jim Wilson led the Woodbine assault with three singles, while Nolan collected a pair of doubles and Wusser two singles.

For Burbicks, now with a 2-1 record, Burns and Howell each smashed three hits. Pruden and May each doubled and singled for the winners.

Three pitchers saw duty for Burbicks, including Burns, Howell and Pruden. Howell, who fanned eight batters and issued three walks, got credit for the victory.

Palmer Leads Western Open Golf With 133

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Power looked today like the payoff in the Western Open golf championship.

The pace-setter, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., is one of the longest drivers in the game. He putted for eagles at every par five hole on the second round of the tournament and made one as he blazed around the Pittsburgh Field Club Friday in 66 strokes for a two-round total of 133.

His closest competitor at the halfway point was powerful Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., who carded two fine 67s for a total of 134.

Burly George Bayer, of Lemont, Ill., whose booming tee shots have become almost a legend on the tournament circuit, was in a third-place tie with Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn., at 136 strokes.

Indians Scalp White Sox, 8-4, To Regain 2-Game Margin

Mays Again Provides Spark As Giants Outlast Reds, 8-6

Tigers, Senators And Red Sox Win

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cal McLish and Minnie Minoso, a couple of players who have had their ups and downs — perhaps more of the latter than the former—over the years could take the bows today for saving Cleveland's American League lead.

McLish, a veteran Oklahoman who broke into major league baseball as a Dodger whiz kid some 15 years ago, recorded his 11th victory of the season against three defeats Friday night as the Indians turned back the second-place White Sox 8-4 in a rain delayed game and increased their lead to two games. Minoso was the leader in two rallies that ruined Early Wynn's hopes.

The Washington Senators, held homerless and shut out twice by Baltimore on Thursday, unleashed their power again Friday night, hit four homers and downed the Orioles 7-6. The Boston Red Sox, with Bobby Avila and Ted Williams again leading the way, knocked off the Yankees a second time 8-5.

The Detroit Tigers, also double shutout victims on Thursday, ended a six-game losing streak when Jim Bunning pitched them to a 5-2 decision over the Kansas City Athletics.

The San Francisco Giants, who took the National League lead Thursday, increased their margin to a full game with an 11-inning, 8-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in a game that saw eight pitchers give up 24 hits. Runner-up Los Angeles and third-place Milwaukee were rained out in the second game of their series.

Dick Stuart's 17th homer of the season, with two aboard in the 11th inning, capped a four-run splurge that brought the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs. The St. Louis Cardinals, scoring eight in the sixth inning, beat Philadelphia 9-7.

Minoso, Tito Francona and Rocky Colavito were the Indian hitters who handed Early Wynn his sixth defeat against 12 victories. Minnie hit two singles and scored twice, Francona had four hits and drove in three runs and Colavito knocked in three runs with three hits.

Washington blasted starter John Fisher early and hard, gaining a 7-2 lead on homers by Ken Aspromente, Bob Allison, Harmon Killebrew and Roy Sievers. But the Orioles got to Camilo Pascual and Tex Clevenger for four runs in the eighth before Billy Consol snuffed out the rally with a leaping one-hand catch of Albie Pearson's liner.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel took a chance on starting Whitey Ford in Boston's Fenway Park, a trouble spot for southpaws. Ford found the trouble in the fourth inning when Avila and Williams contributed singles and the Yanks contributed three errors to a five-run Boston outburst. The Yanks came back to make it 5-4, but the Sox got three more runs on Marty Keoghs pinch double, singles by Avila and Jackie Jensen and a double by Williams.

Williams now has hit safely in 8 of his last 13 times at bat.

Bunning allowed the Athletics only seven hits, including Jerry Lumpe's two-run homer that tied the score at 2-2 in the fourth, but Ted Lepcio sewed up the victory with a two-run homer off reliever Bob Grim in the sixth.

Error Leads To Merchants 1-0 Triumph

A bobbled infield grounder that allowed the game's only run to cross the plate resulted in a 1-0 shutout victory by the Merchants over Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 in City Baseball League action Friday at Patterson Field.

Southpaw Bill Sutherin and right-hander John Zawoysky each hurled two-hit ball, but the cellar-dwelling Merchants plated a run in the fourth inning on the error to gain the victory.

The game was deadlocked in a scoreless tie until Dale Beagle slapped a double for the Merchants and later scored the winning run when Zawoysky's grounder went through shortstop Bobby McMahan.

The victory gave Coach John Andrason's Merchants a 3-7 season mark but still left the squad in fourth place in league standings.

Both Zawoysky of the Merchants and Sutherin of the West Virginia nine were very effective with their slants. Sutherin fanned five and Zawoysky eight and each issued few bases on balls.

Second baseman Hobbs collected both of Lawrenceville's hits in three trips to the plate. Besides Beagle's double for the Merchants, Andrason punched a single for the winners.

McMahan, the little infielder for the Lawrenceville entry, couldn't find the handle on two other occasions and was charged with three errors for the game.

Gordy Ingold, first sacker for the Legion squad, was removed from the game after being hit on the right leg by one of Zawoysky's pitches.

League-leading Cox Construction battles the Merchants today at 6 p. m. at Patterson Field. Second place Irondale will attempt to cut Cox's lead when they host the city entry Sunday afternoon at 3 at Irondale.

Stuart's 17th HR Wins For Pirates

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays is looking like the old, carefree Willie again and that may be bad news for the teams that are trying to topple the San Francisco Giants from their newly won place atop the National League standings.

Up to the All-Star game last week, Mays wasn't doing especially well—if you think hitting .311 isn't a good performance. Now he apparently is off on another of the late-season spurts that have marked his major league career.

It was Willie who produced the winning run Thursday as the Giants moved into first place ahead of Los Angeles and Milwaukee. It was Willie again Friday night providing the highspots of San Francisco's 11-inning, 8-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds that increased the Giant margin to a full game.

The second game of the important Los Angeles-Milwaukee series was rained out before the third inning was completed, dropping each team another half game behind the winning Giants.

The Pittsburgh Pirates came out on top in another 11-inning contest of homers and errors, beating the Chicago Cubs 7-6. The St. Louis Cardinals put together an eight-run rally in the sixth inning and then barely choked off a ninth-inning splurge by the Phillies to win 9-7.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians scored three runs in the ninth inning to wrap up an 8-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox and increase their lead over Chicago to two games.

Four Washington homers gave the Senators a 7-6 decision over the third-place Baltimore Orioles. The Boston Red Sox made it two straight over New York, 8-5, and Detroit ended its six-game losing streak by beating Kansas City 5-2.

Mays' 15th home run of the season was the climactic blow of San Francisco's victory over Cincinnati, but it wasn't his most important contribution. Earlier in the game he had hit two singles and had stolen three bases. And the Giants already had scored the tie-breaking run in the 11th before Willie connected.

Pittsburgh's 11 - inning game ended just about as sensationally. The Cubs had scored three runs in the first half of the inning to break a 3-3 deadlock. Then a fielder's choice and a walk put Roman Mejias and Bill Virdon on base. Hank Foiles singled Mejias home, then Dick Stuart blasted one of Don Elston's pitches over the center field wall for three more runs to win the game.

Back-to-back homers by Gene Oliver and Hal Smith highlighted the Cardinals' big inning against the Phillies. The Cards sent 13 men to the plate against three pitchers in that inning and made nine hits. It cost Jim Owens (4-8) his fifth straight defeat. But Vinegar Bend Mizell got into difficulties in the ninth and the Phils got three runs before Lindy McDaniel fanned Harry Anderson and Carl Sawatski to end it.

Jordan Defeats Moyer To Retain Welter Title

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Tough Don Jordan of Los Angeles defended his welterweight championship convincingly Friday night. He now looks toward middleweight Ray Robinson for his next bout.

Jordan, a punishing body puncher, rammed solid hooks into the ribs of 19-year-old Denny Moyer, and uppercuts to the face as he scored a unanimous 15-round decision over the young Portlander in a nationally televised bout.

There were no knockdowns.

Several times Moyer appeared about to go down, but each time called on some hidden resources to stay upright. He still was dancing gamely about at the end, flicking left jabs at Jordan.

For Jordan it was his 11th straight victory, his third since winning the title. It makes his record now 46-11.

Moyer, who had hoped to become the youngest champion on record in the welterweight division, suffered his first loss in 21 bouts.

Of the possible fight with Robinson, Jordan's co-manager, Don Nesseth, said, "We have been offered a lot of money to fight Robinson."

He said the offer came from an Eastern promoter, but disclosed no other details. Robinson recently was stripped of his middleweight title by the National Boxing Assn., but is recognized as champion in New York.

Two pre-fight incidents stirred interest in the bout.

One was Jordan's failure to make the 147-pound weight at his first weigh-in. He was 1½ pounds over the limit, and had to sweat it off by exercising. Ninety minutes later he qualified at an even 147, but there was speculation the process might have weakened him.

If he was weak, Moyer would hate to face him strong.

The other was discovery that Mickey Cohen was in town, and had paid a 1 a.m. visit Friday to Jordan. This brought police into sudden activity, for earlier Nesseth had said the underworld was trying to get control of Jordan—and the police suspect Cohen of having underworld connections.

Burbicks Win In Pony Loop

Burbicks came roaring from behind to splurge for seven runs in the late innings and whip Woodbines, 12-10, in Pony League play Friday night at Dopler Field.

The winners trailed for most of the game after the laundrymen had threatened to run the score into double digits in the first three innings.

Burbicks were aided by four Woodbine errors, but also came through with an avalanche of 12 hits in defeating McComas, the losing pitcher.

Jim Wilson led the Woodbine assault with three singles, while Nolan collected a pair of doubles and Wusser two singles.

For Burbicks, now with a 2-1 record, Burns and Howell each smashed three hits. Pruden and May each doubled and singled for the winners.

Three pitchers saw duty for Burbicks, including Burns, Howell and Pruden. Howell, who fanned eight batters and issued three walks, got credit for the victory.

Palmer Leads Western Open Golf With 133

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Power looked today like the payoff in the Western Open golf championship.

The pace-setter, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., is one of the longest drivers in the game. He putted for eagles at every par five hole on the second round of the tournament and made one as he blazed around the Pittsburgh Field Club Friday in 66 strokes for a two-round total of 133.

His closest competitor at the halfway point was powerful Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., who carded two fine 67s for a total of 134.

Burly George Bayer, of Lemont, Ill., whose booming tee shots have become almost a legend on the tournament circuit, was in a third-place tie with Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn., at 136 strokes.

Ohio All-Star Grid Tickets Go On Sale

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Tickets have gone on sale for the 14th annual North-South scholastic all-star football game, to be played Aug. 15 at Fawcett Stadium here.

Last year's game drew 14,500 spectators, and the biggest crowd was 19,000 in 1953.

Fred George of Cleveland Cathedral Latin will coach the North All-Stars, while Bron Bacevich of Cincinnati Roger Bacon will coach the South squad.

A coaching clinic will be held Aug 10-15 at the Oneste Hotel ballroom here. Instructors include Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Ara Parseghian of Northwestern, Trevor Rees of Kent State, Paul Dietzel of LSU, Phil Dickens of Indiana and Tom Harp of West Point, former Massillon high coach.

Harris Outlines Cage Philosophy

East Liverpool High School basketball players will play the game as Jim Harris, their new coach, wants it played or they won't be on the squad.

That was the impression Harris left when he addressed the Lions Club Friday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

"They must do it my way. I'm a great believer in one chief and the rest Indians. When you get too many chiefs, you have trouble," the former ELHS All - Ohio star said in discussing his coaching philosophy.

"I don't baby any players and I don't coax any to play. They may as well know that before the season starts so I don't include them in the plans," Harris continued.

OFFENSIVELY, Harris plans to use a set pattern, but explained he doesn't want the players to become so mechanical they can't think for themselves and take advantage of breaks.

The deliberate style of play will allow some options and the players will use a fast break when they get a chance.

"I'm not so interested in pleasing fans as I am in seeing the kids do what they are supposed to do when they are supposed to do it."

Harris said the team will stress a man-to-man defense, although conceding there may be changes under varying conditions. The new coach said he's learned it is best to give each player a responsibility, and it tends to halt loafing.

Basketball has changed, Harris declared, asserting, "I couldn't carry the shoes of some of the boys I've coached."

"Many fans are not willing to accept the change, but some of the old - time stars wouldn't make the present day teams. Players today have much more ability and are terrific shots, but fall down on desire," he said. Desire and attitude count for more than 75 per cent with the remainder in ability.

What kind of a team will the Potters have next season? "I start every season with the idea that it will be perfect. I can't look negatively at the year."

East Liverpool should always be well-represented, Harris continued, but pointed out all coaches run into cycles when one group doesn't have the ability of others.

HARRIS SAID he's aware some fans may be "on my neck." "But in the coaching business, that's to be expected. If you do not expect it, you better get out."

The same second - guessing is also true in business and other endeavors, he pointed out.

"I've been asked why I returned to East Liverpool? I feel that any place where you have had pleasant experiences, there is a certain bondage that holds you. The reason others say they wouldn't return is because they didn't have pleasant experiences."

Harris was introduced by Victor C. Smith, Lions president.

Fate Touches Family Group Within 5 Days

Within five days, the hand of fate reached out to touch three members of a Salineville family with — successively — a heart attack, a gunshot wound and a near-accident in a coal mine caused by a blackout.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bray of High St. could become believers in the old "rule of three" after their series of experiences with fate, which began July Fourth when Mrs. Bray suffered a heart attack.

The following day, her son, James, suffered a gunshot wound of the right elbow in an accident while testing a new rifle.

The chain was completed Thursday when the husband and father blacked out while at work in the John Hirst coal mine at Salineville and fell across a track directly in front of an oncoming mine motor, but was not injured.

The son is a patient in Mercy Hospital at Canton as a result of the gun mishap. It occurred in a rural area near Carrollton, where he had fired at a crow to test his new gun. Later, the gun discharged accidentally, shattering his elbow. He was taken to the Canton hospital after treatment by a Carrollton physician. Physicians said following surgery that his arm will be saved.

The father, a roadman in the mine, fell across the tracks in front of an oncoming motor driven by Charles (Doc) Bettis. But the flare of a carbide lamp warned the motorman, who halted the car in time to avert an accident.

$250,000 Fire Loss

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—An estimated quarter-million dollars worth of damage was inflicted upon the J.P. Cronin Motors Co. here Friday when fire gutted its 60-by-240-foot building. The fire was blamed on a spark that ignited fumes from an automobile gas line on which a mechanic was working. No one was hurt.

Trustees Eye Budget Boost

The budget totals $40,942.88, which is about $3,000 more than the 1959 budget of $37,930.

Simon Hall, clerk, said the funds will be derived from general real estate tax, fire protection tax, motor vehicle licenses and gasoline taxes. The figures will be advertised and then sent to the County Budget Commission for approval. It is then sent to the state tax commission for approval.

Final adoption of the budget is scheduled at a meeting July 24 at 7:30 p. m.

In other business, the trustees let a $221 contract to Ishmael Tackett of Maplewood for installing a new roof on the West fire station in LaCroft. Tackett was the lone bidder.

Robert Kinsey, a plumber, was issued a $10 permit for cutting the blacktop on Crestview Dr. to make a water line tap.

The Battle of Waterloo, where Napoleon's forces met overwhelming defeat, has become a standard word today for "defeat".

Burglary, Theft, Attempted Rape Cases Face Youth

A Midland man was released Friday from Beaver County Jail on $3,000 bond after being bound over to the September term of the Grand Jury by Midland Squire George Griffin on three charges.

Lewis Steele, about 18, of 524 Beaver Ave., Midland, was held to the Grand Jury on charges of burglary, larceny and assault with intent to ravish.

Griffin said Steele is alleged to have broken into the home of a Midland woman Wednesday about 1 a. m., stealing $40 and attempting to ravish her. He was arrested by Midland police.

Steele, represented by counsel at arraignment Wednesday, entered a not guilty plea.

Gives Cattle To Reds

CLEVELAND (AP)—Six prize shorthorn cattle, industrialist Cyrus Eaton's gift to the Soviet collective farm system, will leave New York Monday bound for Russia aboard a Swedish liner. Howard Maher, 22-year-old Ohio State senior in the animal husbandry department, will accompany the cattle.

$250,000 Fire Loss

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—An estimated quarter-million dollars worth of damage was inflicted upon the J.P. Cronin Motors Co. here Friday when fire gutted its 60-by-240-foot building. The fire was blamed on a spark that ignited fumes from an automobile gas line on which a mechanic was working. No one was hurt.

Trustees Eye Budget Boost

The budget totals $40,942.88, which is about $3,000 more than the 1959 budget of $37,930.

Simon Hall, clerk, said the funds will be derived from general real estate tax, fire protection tax, motor vehicle licenses and gasoline taxes. The figures will be advertised and then sent to the County Budget Commission for approval. It is then sent to the state tax commission for approval.

Final adoption of the budget is scheduled at a meeting July 24 at 7:30 p. m.

In other business, the trustees let a $221 contract to Ishmael Tackett of Maplewood for installing a new roof on the West fire station in LaCroft. Tackett was the lone bidder.

The Battle of Waterloo, where Napoleon's forces met overwhelming defeat, has become a standard word today for "defeat".

Burglary, Theft, Attempted Rape Cases Face Youth

A Midland man was released Friday from Beaver County Jail on $3,000 bond after being bound over to the September term of the Grand Jury by Midland Squire George Griffin on three charges.

Lewis Steele, about 18, of 524 Beaver Ave., Midland, was held to the Grand Jury on charges of burglary, larceny and assault with intent to ravish.

Griffin said Steele is alleged to have broken into the home of a Midland woman Wednesday about 1 a. m., stealing $40 and attempting to ravish her. He was arrested by Midland police.

Steele, represented by counsel at arraignment Wednesday, entered a not guilty plea.

Gives Cattle To Reds

CLEVELAND (AP)—Six prize shorthorn cattle, industrialist Cyrus Eaton's gift to the Soviet collective farm system, will leave New York Monday bound for Russia aboard a Swedish liner. Howard Maher, 22-year-old Ohio State senior in the animal husbandry department, will accompany the cattle.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, at the office of said Director until twelve o'clock Noon E.D.S.T., July 13, 1959, for furnishing the necessary labor and materials for the construction of sanitary sewers and appurtenances thereto in the Beechwood area according to plans and specifications on file in said office.

The Engineers estimates of the approximate quantities for said improvements are as follows:

9286 lin. ft. 8" sewer pipe
2800 lin. ft. 4" sewer pipe
12086 lin. ft. trench
28 manholes
and other appurtenances

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond, to the satisfaction of the Director, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the total bid, payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Bidders are required to use the printed forms which will be furnished on application. Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside with "Beechwood Area Sewer Bid."

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Public Service of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, at the office of said Director until twelve o'clock Noon E.D.S.T., July 13, 1959, for furnishing the necessary labor and materials for the construction of sanitary sewers and appurtenances thereto in the Beechwood area according to plans and specifications on file in said office.

The Engineers estimates of the approximate quantities for said improvements are as follows:

9286 lin. ft. 8" sewer pipe
2800 lin. ft. 4" sewer pipe
12086 lin. ft. trench
28 manholes
and other appurtenances

Each bid must contain the full names of every person or company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bond, to the satisfaction of the Director, or a certified check on some solvent bank in the amount of 5% of the total bid, payable to the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool as a guaranty that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured. Should any bid be rejected such will be forthwith returned to the bidder, and should any bid be accepted such check will be returned upon the proper execution and securing of the contract.

Bidders are required to use the printed forms which will be furnished on application. Envelopes containing bids should be marked on outside with "Beechwood Area Sewer Bid."

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Road Collapse Blamed After Newell Crash

Five members of an East Liverpool family were treated at City Hospital Friday night for injuries received when the auto in which they were riding overturned on the Washington School Rd. in back of Newell.

The driver, Lester A. Bragg, 1138 Harker Ave., said a section of the roadway gave way and caused his 1953 model auto to overturn over a small embankment. He escaped injury.

The passengers and their injuries were:

Mrs. Ramona Bragg, 27, abrasions of the chest; Cathy Bragg, 10, abrasions of the right knee and a possible fractured rib; Diana Bragg, 6, abrasions of the back; Patricia Bragg, 3, contusions of the left forehead, and James Bragg, a month-old infant, contusions of the left side of the head.

Bragg reported he was traveling uphill in second gear when a section of the berm on a narrow strip of roadway crumpled and caused his auto to upset.

The mishap occured about 8:45 last night, he said. The injured were released from the hospital following treatment. Harcock County sheriff's deputies and West Virginia State Police at Weirton had no report of the accident.

Motion Studied To Rescind Order In Youth's Case

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Juvenile Judge Henry P. Beckenbach is considering a motion asking him to rescind an order under which 15-year-old Richard Harter was turned over to Common Pleas Court as an adult.

The Garfield Heights youth pleaded guilty to second-degree murder and was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary for killing Edward Craven, 62, Youngstown railroad worker.

Judge Beckenbach at first overruled the motion but was persuaded to change his mind by attorneys Thomas V. Leffingwell and Frank S. Bodor of Warren.

The judge took the motion under advisement.

Groundwork Laid By Lutherans To Merge 3 Churches

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Groundwork for merging three Lutheran churches into the American Lutheran Church next year was laid here when 11 of the new organization's 13 top executives were chosen.

Members of the 16 boards planning for the physical union met at St. Olaf College Friday. The merger will unite the Evangelical Lutheran, American Lutheran and United Evangelical Lutheran churches into the third largest grouping of that faith in the nation, with an estimated 2,200,000 members.

The board of trustees, charged with directing financial affairs of the new church, named Dr. Elmer Abrahamson, Chicago layman, as chairman and Dr. George S. Schultz, Columbus, Ohio, executive secretary. Other board members are Dr. Raymond W. Miolttel, Detroit, and the Rev. Lawrence S. Price, Fremont, Ohio.

Suit For False Arrest Asks $5,250 Damages

LISBON — A suit for $5,250 stemming from an alleged false arrest March 25 was filed in Common Pleas Court Friday by Robert B. Blake, 226 Pittsburgh St., Columbiana.

Donald Stougger of Leetonia R. D. 1 was named defendant.

Blake claims in his petition that he was arrested "without probable cause and in absolute disregard" of his rights and was bound over to the Grand Jury for forgery. The April Grand jury ignored the case.

Blake asks punitive and exemplary damages, along with compensatory damages.

Woman, 51, Claimed In Shaker Heights Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Miss Estelle Coprosky, 51, died in a fire today in her Shaker Heights apartment.

Miss Coprosky, a clerk at Western Reserve University, suffered only minor burns and apparently was overcome by smoke from a burning couch. Fire Chief Merle Hand said the fire probably was caused by a cigarette.

Can't Fly Across Siberia In U.S. Plane, Nixon Told

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviets have refused Vice President Richard M. Nixon permission to fly across Siberia in an American plane on his visit to the Soviet Union, the New York Herald-Tribune said today.

Nixon, who is going to Moscow later this month to open the U.S. exhibition, wanted to return home across Siberia by way of Alaska, the paper's Washington correspondent James E. Warner said.

The Soviets long have barred foreigners from the Siberian Pacific coastline and the interior of that region bordering on Communist China.

An aide to Nixon, asked about the reported Soviet action, said that so far as he knew the question of flying across Siberia still was in the discussion stage.

Vatican Newspaper Protests Hungary Law

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Vatican newspaper has protested a new law empowering Hungary's Communist regime to pick the men it wants for all Catholic Church posts, including bishops.

L'Osservatore Romano said Friday Karoly Holt, a Communist for 30 years who has just been made head of the government's office for ecclesiastic affairs, now has the "judicial instruments to legalize all abuses which civil powers seeks to commit against the church."

Stab Wound Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cut on the right arm with a butcher knife in a fight involving two families, Otha Brown, 38, of Cleveland, died in a hospital Friday night. Detectives said Mrs. J. T. Patterson, 35, admitted stabbing Brown during an argument at the Patterson residence, where the Browns had been visiting. She was held for questioning.

The Missouri River is 2,700 miles long.

Group Plans Festival For Wellsville Parish

Plans were reviewed for the annual parish festival Friday through Sunday, July 19, at a meeting of festival committee Friday night in the Pine Room of the Immaculate Conception Catholic School at Wellsville.

A bazaar will be held Friday and Saturday nights on the school grounds. Various booths will be operated. A public supper is planned for Sunday.

The committee started erecting the booths last night. Members will meet again Monday night to continue the work.

Fr. John Lyons, new pastor, received reports on the progress of the event. Sam Amato is general chairman.

'The Prisoner's Song' Evidence In Arrests

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Homer Scruggs, 36, and Robert Eugene Combs, 27, were arrested on forgery charges Friday.

Police said the evidence against them included a check passed at a music store for the purchase of a record, "The Prisoner's Song."

Truck Bids Received

LISBON — Lewis Chevrolet Co. submitted the apparent low bid of $1,750 to the Board of Public Affairs, which opened bids Friday noon on a new half-ton truck for the water department. Other bids were submitted by O. S. Hill & Co. and Lehman Brothers garage.

Kaycee Group Waits Meeting

Cardinal Mercier General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, will open the 1959-60 year with a business session Wednesday night at 8 at the Wellsville K. of C. home on Riverside Ave.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, faithful navigator, said Fred A. Baldasare of Wellsville, faithful admiral and a former faithful navigator, has been reappointed as the assembly's marshal.

Other officers are John LaScola, faithful captain; Joseph O'Hanlon, faithful pilot; Samuel Amato, faithful scribe; Frank Musuraca, faithful comptroller; Joseph Fittante and Paul Karaffa, faithful sentinels, and Joseph Gebauer, Thomas Meadows and W. J. Bamer, faithful trustees.

Committee appointments will be announced and a tentative program for the year will be considered.

The assembly has given a vote of thanks to Fr. Arthur M. Nist, former faithful friar, and to Fr. William J. Lawler, former pastor of the Wellsville Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. They have been transferred to new parishes.

Fr. Homer G. Oliver of St. Patrick's Church in Salineville is the assembly's recently appointed friar.

2 Added To Staff Of State Patrol

A new patrolman and a new cadet dispatcher have assumed their duties at the Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol.

Sturtz was graduated June 26 from the Patrol Academy at Columbus. He formerly served as a cadet dispatcher at the New Philadelphia barracks. He attended the University of Cincinnati and played end on the football team there for two years. He is married and will move to the Lisbon area.

Hornyak, 20, started his duties Thursday. He will work as a desk man at the post until he can gain admittance to the academy. He is single and plans to continue living in Hubbard.

Several Apprehended In Slaying 2 Yanks

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnamese security troops have apprehended several persons believed connected with killing of two American Army officers and wounding of a third at Bienhoa, an American official said today. The suspects were being interrogated and officials hoped they would reveal the whereabouts of the Communist terrorists who attacked the Americans' billet at a Vietnamese army base with submachine guns and homemade bombs Wednesday.

The victims were members of the U.S. military assistance and advisory group.

Irish Playwright Fined 5 Shillings For Being Drunk

LONDON (AP) — Stiff ruffled, and rumpled but subdued, Brendan Behan rolled into Bow Street Court today and was fined 5 shillings (70 cents) for being drunk in public.

The thirsty Irish playwright pleaded guilty.

"Is anything known about him?" asked Magistrate Clive Burt.

"Not in this court, sir," said a court official.

A chuckle rippled round the public seats and the big, bleary-eyed Behan grinned.

For since his arrival three days ago from a drying out course in a Dublin hospital, he has been hitting the bottle and the headlines day and night.

Behan—author of "The Hostage" now playing at a London theater—turned up in court in an unpressed gray suit. His coat sagged limply open. His white shirt was bunched up. He never wears a necktie.

On his chin was a three-day growth of stubble.

Police Constable John Dicks testified he picked Behan up in swanky Mayfair Friday under the influence of alcohol.

Behan nodded.

"He gave no trouble," said the policeman.

Behan nodded again.

Wetzel Helps Defeat Of 3 Proposed Bills

State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon voted against three bills which were defeated in the Ohio House of Representatives at Columbus this week. He voted in support of two other measures which were passed.

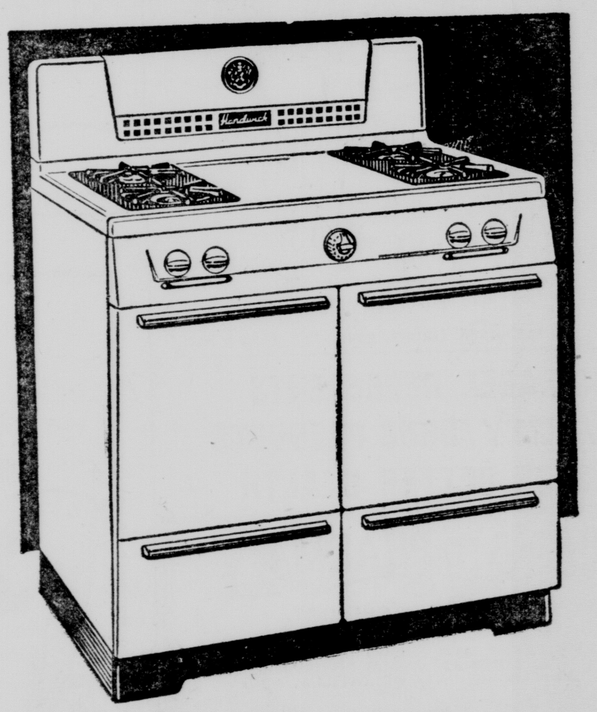

Rep. Wetzel voted against a bill to establish standard license fees and numbers for boats (defeated 65-48), a bill to revise campaign expense laws (defeated 70-57) and a bill to regulate working hours for women (defeated 70-61).

The legislator backed a bill to increase unemployment compensation benefits (passed 91-42) and another to increase exemptions and rates on inheritance tax (passed 83-27).

Road Collapse Blamed After Newell Crash

Five members of an East Liverpool family were treated at City Hospital Friday night for injuries received when the auto in which they were riding overturned on the Washington School Rd. in back of Newell.

The driver, Lester A. Bragg, 1138 Harker Ave., said a section of the roadway gave way and caused his 1953 model auto to overturn over a small embankment. He escaped injury.

The passengers and their injuries were:

Mrs. Ramona Bragg, 27, abrasions of the chest; Cathy Bragg, 10, abrasions of the right knee and a possible fractured rib; Diana Bragg, 6, abrasions of the back; Patricia Bragg, 3, contusions of the left forehead, and James Bragg, a month-old infant, contusions of the left side of the head.

Bragg reported he was traveling uphill in second gear when a section of the berm on a narrow strip of roadway crumpled and caused his auto to upset.

The mishap occured about 8:45 last night, he said. The injured were released from the hospital following treatment. Harcock County sheriff's deputies and West Virginia State Police at Weirton had no report of the accident.

Motion Studied To Rescind Order In Youth's Case

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Juvenile Judge Henry P. Beckenbach is considering a motion asking him to rescind an order under which 15-year-old Richard Harter was turned over to Common Pleas Court as an adult.

The Garfield Heights youth pleaded guilty to second-degree murder and was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary for killing Edward Craven, 62, Youngstown railroad worker.

Judge Beckenbach at first overruled the motion but was persuaded to change his mind by attorneys Thomas V. Leffingwell and Frank S. Bodor of Warren.

The judge took the motion under advisement.

Groundwork Laid By Lutherans To Merge 3 Churches

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Groundwork for merging three Lutheran churches into the American Lutheran Church next year was laid here when 11 of the new organization's 13 top executives were chosen.

Members of the 16 boards planning for the physical union met at St. Olaf College Friday. The merger will unite the Evangelical Lutheran, American Lutheran and United Evangelical Lutheran churches into the third largest grouping of that faith in the nation, with an estimated 2,200,000 members.

The board of trustees, charged with directing financial affairs of the new church, named Dr. Elmer Abrahamson, Chicago layman, as chairman and Dr. George S. Schultz, Columbus, Ohio, executive secretary. Other board members are Dr. Raymond W. Miolttel, Detroit, and the Rev. Lawrence S. Price, Fremont, Ohio.

Suit For False Arrest Asks $5,250 Damages

LISBON — A suit for $5,250 stemming from an alleged false arrest March 25 was filed in Common Pleas Court Friday by Robert B. Blake, 226 Pittsburgh St., Columbiana.

Donald Stougger of Leetonia R. D. 1 was named defendant.

Blake claims in his petition that he was arrested "without probable cause and in absolute disregard" of his rights and was bound over to the Grand Jury for forgery. The April Grand jury ignored the case.

Blake asks punitive and exemplary damages, along with compensatory damages.

Woman, 51, Claimed In Shaker Heights Fire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Miss Estelle Coprosky, 51, died in a fire today in her Shaker Heights apartment.

Miss Coprosky, a clerk at Western Reserve University, suffered only minor burns and apparently was overcome by smoke from a burning couch. Fire Chief Merle Hand said the fire probably was caused by a cigarette.

Can't Fly Across Siberia In U.S. Plane, Nixon Told

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviets have refused Vice President Richard M. Nixon permission to fly across Siberia in an American plane on his visit to the Soviet Union, the New York Herald-Tribune said today.

Nixon, who is going to Moscow later this month to open the U.S. exhibition, wanted to return home across Siberia by way of Alaska, the paper's Washington correspondent James E. Warner said.

The Soviets long have barred foreigners from the Siberian Pacific coastline and the interior of that region bordering on Communist China.

An aide to Nixon, asked about the reported Soviet action, said that so far as he knew the question of flying across Siberia still was in the discussion stage.

Vatican Newspaper Protests Hungary Law

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Vatican newspaper has protested a new law empowering Hungary's Communist regime to pick the men it wants for all Catholic Church posts, including bishops.

L'Osservatore Romano said Friday Karoly Holt, a Communist for 30 years who has just been made head of the government's office for ecclesiastic affairs, now has the "judicial instruments to legalize all abuses which civil powers seeks to commit against the church."

Stab Wound Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cut on the right arm with a butcher knife in a fight involving two families, Otha Brown, 38, of Cleveland, died in a hospital Friday night. Detectives said Mrs. J. T. Patterson, 35, admitted stabbing Brown during an argument at the Patterson residence, where the Browns had been visiting. She was held for questioning.

The Missouri River is 2,700 miles long.

Group Plans Festival For Wellsville Parish

Plans were reviewed for the annual parish festival Friday through Sunday, July 19, at a meeting of festival committee Friday night in the Pine Room of the Immaculate Conception Catholic School at Wellsville.

A bazaar will be held Friday and Saturday nights on the school grounds. Various booths will be operated. A public supper is planned for Sunday.

The committee started erecting the booths last night. Members will meet again Monday night to continue the work.

Fr. John Lyons, new pastor, received reports on the progress of the event. Sam Amato is general chairman.

'The Prisoner's Song' Evidence In Arrests

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—Homer Scruggs, 36, and Robert Eugene Combs, 27, were arrested on forgery charges Friday.

Police said the evidence against them included a check passed at a music store for the purchase of a record, "The Prisoner's Song."

Truck Bids Received

LISBON — Lewis Chevrolet Co. submitted the apparent low bid of $1,750 to the Board of Public Affairs, which opened bids Friday noon on a new half-ton truck for the water department. Other bids were submitted by O. S. Hill & Co. and Lehman Brothers garage.

Kaycee Group Waits Meeting

Cardinal Mercier General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, will open the 1959-60 year with a business session Wednesday night at 8 at the Wellsville K. of C. home on Riverside Ave.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, faithful navigator, said Fred A. Baldasare of Wellsville, faithful admiral and a former faithful navigator, has been reappointed as the assembly's marshal.

Other officers are John LaScola, faithful captain; Joseph O'Hanlon, faithful pilot; Samuel Amato, faithful scribe; Frank Musuraca, faithful comptroller; Joseph Fittante and Paul Karaffa, faithful sentinels, and Joseph Gebauer, Thomas Meadows and W. J. Bamer, faithful trustees.

Committee appointments will be announced and a tentative program for the year will be considered.

The assembly has given a vote of thanks to Fr. Arthur M. Nist, former faithful friar, and to Fr. William J. Lawler, former pastor of the Wellsville Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. They have been transferred to new parishes.

Fr. Homer G. Oliver of St. Patrick's Church in Salineville is the assembly's recently appointed friar.

2 Added To Staff Of State Patrol

A new patrolman and a new cadet dispatcher have assumed their duties at the Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol.

Sturtz was graduated June 26 from the Patrol Academy at Columbus. He formerly served as a cadet dispatcher at the New Philadelphia barracks. He attended the University of Cincinnati and played end on the football team there for two years. He is married and will move to the Lisbon area.

Hornyak, 20, started his duties Thursday. He will work as a desk man at the post until he can gain admittance to the academy. He is single and plans to continue living in Hubbard.

Several Apprehended In Slaying 2 Yanks

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnamese security troops have apprehended several persons believed connected with killing of two American Army officers and wounding of a third at Bienhoa, an American official said today. The suspects were being interrogated and officials hoped they would reveal the whereabouts of the Communist terrorists who attacked the Americans' billet at a Vietnamese army base with submachine guns and homemade bombs Wednesday.

The victims were members of the U.S. military assistance and advisory group.

Irish Playwright Fined 5 Shillings For Being Drunk

LONDON (AP) — Stiff ruffled, and rumpled but subdued, Brendan Behan rolled into Bow Street Court today and was fined 5 shillings (70 cents) for being drunk in public.

The thirsty Irish playwright pleaded guilty.

"Is anything known about him?" asked Magistrate Clive Burt.

"Not in this court, sir," said a court official.

A chuckle rippled round the public seats and the big, bleary-eyed Behan grinned.

For since his arrival three days ago from a drying out course in a Dublin hospital, he has been hitting the bottle and the headlines day and night.

Behan—author of "The Hostage" now playing at a London theater—turned up in court in an unpressed gray suit. His coat sagged limply open. His white shirt was bunched up. He never wears a necktie.

On his chin was a three-day growth of stubble.

Police Constable John Dicks testified he picked Behan up in swanky Mayfair Friday under the influence of alcohol.

Behan nodded.

"He gave no trouble," said the policeman.

Behan nodded again.

Wetzel Helps Defeat Of 3 Proposed Bills

State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon voted against three bills which were defeated in the Ohio House of Representatives at Columbus this week. He voted in support of two other measures which were passed.

Rep. Wetzel voted against a bill to establish standard license fees and numbers for boats (defeated 65-48), a bill to revise campaign expense laws (defeated 70-57) and a bill to regulate working hours for women (defeated 70-61).

The legislator backed a bill to increase unemployment compensation benefits (passed 91-42) and another to increase exemptions and rates on inheritance tax (passed 83-27).
